SCHEPPS IS SILENT ON ROSENTHAL CASE

Much Wanted Man Reached New York Today—Clash Between Dist. Attorney and Police

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—News that had told all he knew concerning the Rosenthal case to the district attorney, and replied: "We did not discuss anything like that; we just had a nice little chat."

It is known, however, that Schepps substantially corroborated Jack Rose's story.

TOBACCO PLANTERS SHOULD MAKE LARGER PROFITS SAY EXPERTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Tobacco planters throughout the United States should make larger profits than they do, according to a report of agricultural experts who have been studying the situation. The planters now receive about $100,000,000 a year for their average crop of one billion pounds.

POLICE JACK? Rose told implicating Police Lieut. Becker in the murder of Herman Rosenthal would be supplied.

Rose has said repeatedly that if Schepps would tell the truth his (Rose's story) would be corroborated.

Information was forthcoming from the public prosecutor's office today that created unusual interest at police headquarters. It was learned that for several months prior to the shooting of Rosenthal offices of the district attorney had been quietly investigating graft in the police department. The big grafters, it was said, have been constantly shadowed for four months and the Rosenthal shooting simply hurried matters.

From members of the district attorney's staff it was learned that well known civilian and two and possibly four police inspectors were caught in the toils.

The district attorney has obtained information that a "collector" for one man high in police circles has accumulated no less than $75,000 as his commission on collections in the last seven months. Speaking of the investigation into police graft a member of the district attorney's staff said:

"Every man in the ring is known and will be indicted at the special session of the grand jury."

There are reports that if indictments are brought against one police inspector he will turn state's evidence. The indictments for the police graft are not likely to be drawn until after the Rosenthal indictments are found.

The grand jury will meet tomorrow when it is expected Sam Schepps will tell his story.

The train bearing Schepps reached Albany at 4:40 this morning. Dist. Atty. Whitman in the meantime was waiting at an Albany hotel. Schepps was taken from the train. Then Whitman suddenly decided to leave for New York at once and a dash was made for the station to get the 5:55 train.

Notwithstanding the early hour a curious crowd followed Schepps through the streets and photographers from New York clicked their cameras shutters as he passed. He ate a hearty breakfast on the train and today evinced none of the fear of the "system" vengeance that has been attributed to him heretofore. He was dressed modestly in a dark gray suit, wore over-glasses and looked like a quiet little traveling salesman.

There was a clash between the district attorney and detectives from police headquarters as soon as the train pulled in to New York at 10:20. Detective Haggerty, who said he had been sent up by Deputy Commissioner Dougherty, tried to take charge of the prisoner, but Mr. Whitman would have none of it and insisted that the district attorney's office alone should have charge.

A curious crowd followed Schepps through the station, but Sam only smiled and said that he was glad to get back to New York. When asked if he

GREAT BRITAIN MAY TAKE PART IN PANAMA PACIFIC EXPOSITION

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The United States embassy today received a reply from the British foreign office to President Taft's invitation to the British government to participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition. The foreign office is disposed to accept the invitation on principle but its final decision in the matter will be influenced partly by the possibility of arriving at a satisfactory settlement with the exposition authorities in regard to the accommodation to be provided for British exhibitors.

No hint is given in the reply in respect to other possible influences which may affect the British decision but it is evident that a loophole has been left for British refusal of the invitation on account of possible unfavorable canal legislation.

THE NAVAL BILL PROVIDES FOR ONE NEW BATTLERSHIP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Conferees on the naval appropriation bill agreed today to provide for one battleship at a cost not greater than $15,000,000, an appropriation of $2,500,000 to be available for the beginning of the work. No specific sum was reached as to the dimensions or armament. The naval bill in other respects was adopted as approved by the previous conference and is now acceptable to the house and senate.

FREIGHT BUSINESS LIGHT

At the New Haven, New Haven & Hartford freight house, in Maple Street, business at the present time is rather quiet. During the month of August, particularly the last two weeks, there is a noticeable lull in the shipments throughout the country.

The quietness is due to the fact that the employees of many of the big houses are on their vacations, and while the latter are enjoying the breezes at some of the pleasure resorts, the employees of the receiving offices, especially at the railroad houses enjoy a much needed rest after the busy season of the summer months.

At the New Haven office, while all employees are working, and kept moving, the decrease in the number of shipments allows them to "take it easy."

Activities will be resumed by the first of September, when practically all the large commission houses will start to make shipments. The general freight business on the railroads in this vicinity at present is very quiet, while on the other hand, the passenger travel is very heavy.

TO PREVENT CAR SHORTAGE

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—In order to forestall a threatened freight car shortage such as existed in October, 1907, just before the panic, eastern railroads are urging shippers everywhere to aid them by promptly loading and unloading cars.

According to an official statement issued by the Pennsylvania railroad the quantity of freight cars handled is already so large that the co-operation of the road's patrons is necessary to preclude serious congestion in the fall. The road advises shippers to have their freight ready for loading when the cars are delivered and to aid in the scheme of relief by loading each car as nearly to capacity as practicable.

STRIKE ENDED

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—The 110 striking employees of the Sturtevant Flower Works returned to work today with the understanding that the plant was to continue as an open shop.

Horse and Carriage Struck by an Automobile—The Accident Occurred This Morning

What came near being a fatal accident occurred this morning in Waltham, when Mr. John Cosgrove's horse and carriage were struck by an automobile. The accident occurred at midnight and Mr. Cosgrove considers it almost a miracle that he escaped without a scratch while his carriage was reduced to kindling wood.

As far as could be learned, Mr. Cosgrove was returning to his home in East Waltham at midnight, and when he reached a spot near his buggy, and the machine crashed into his carriage on a straight road.

His cries attracted his mother's attention and the little fellow was removed in an unconscious condition to the home of the parents, where Dr. Larabee and another physician attended him.

NOMINATION PAPERS FILED BY CANDIDATES

List of Those Who Are Seeking Office

The time for the filing of nomination papers by the candidates for congress and for state officers expired Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

There is no dearth of candidates for congress on the republican side and it was quite a surprise when W. H. S. Bartlett filed his papers. Mr. Bartlett says that he's been busy in the cause of the people to demand an honest progressive form of government and in his communication to The Sun he says: "I'm going after the new man, too, honest and courageous."

Mr. Bartlett made the first republican to make a race for the congressional job from a republican camp and after the nominations there will be another in the person of William N. Gossard. He will petition for a place on the ballot at the state election as a progressive.

The democratic candidates for congressional honor are Humphrey O'Sullivan and James H. Parashish. The republicans in the list are John J. O'Rourke, W. H. S. Bartlett and James W. Gleaves, of Haverhill. Mr. Gleaves is not on the list but is waiting for the turn to throw his hat in the ring.

Edward Fisher of Westford, democrat, will be unopposed for the democratic nomination to the seventh senatorial district and Alfonso G. Walsh will be in the same position on the republican end. In the eighth senatorial district there are three democrats seeking the nomination. They are James P. Duggan of North Chelmsford, Warren P. Eldred and Henry Draper. Elmer B. OFFICIAL DENIAL THAT THE POPE WENT OUT OF THE VATICAN

ROME, Aug. 19.—A statement circulated in the press here, that the pope went out of the vatican to visit his sister Rose, who was said to have been stricken with paralysis, was officially denied at the vatican today.

The officials declare that the stroke of paralysis suffered by the pope's sister occurred as far back as June, and was of such a slight nature that it never caused any serious anxiety.

Pope has almost entirely recovered.

ACCIDENT AVERTED

The heroic work of Merton Bourke averted an accident at the corner of Allen street and Lakeview avenue this morning. The mertonian was at the brakes of his car which is due in Merrimack square from Nashua at 7:30 o'clock, when upon reaching the above point, a light Concord wagon came frightened and started to beat the other right across the tracks, just in front of the car. Several men ran to grab the interrupted animal and Merton Bourke, realizing the danger immediately applied his brake. The result was that the car was thrown back, giving the passengers quite a shaking up, but nevertheless avoided colliding with the wagon.

SUFFRAGETTES HELD UP SIR EDWARD GREY

Engaged Him in a Warm Argument

EMBLETON, Northumberland, Aug. 15.—A party of enterprising suffragettes waylaid Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs while he was leaving church yesterday and engaged him in a warm argument on the question of woman suffrage.

Sir Edward at first said: "I refuse to discuss the question with you here," but the women declared that the opportunity for discussion had been denied them elsewhere.

Sir Edward refused to receive a delegation of the women, whereupon one of them demanded: "How dare you betray the women's cause by allowing a reform bill to be drafted to include men only?"

Sir Edward responded that he had put down an amendment to the bill giving women partial suffrage.

You know that amendment was of no use," a lady shouted.

Sir Edward replied: "You know nothing about parliamentary procedure or you wouldn't say that."

After further argument Sir Edward succeeded in escaping to his motor car in which he dashed away from the scene.

LOWELL SOCIALIST CLUB

The Lowell Socialist club held a meeting at the corner of Allen street and Lakeview avenue Saturday night, which was largely attended. Several speeches in both French and English were listened to by the speakers being John Corbin and John H. Murphy president of the club.

It was voted at the preceding meeting to conduct an investigation of the observance of the eight hour law in the different city departments.

FORMER CONVICT IS GIVEN A CHANCE

To Start Up in the Cigar Business

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—Philadelphia has thrown its arms open for the return and protection of William Burke who resigned his seat in the council and fled after making a statement that he was an ex-convict in the Massachusetts state prison. Several preachers, in their sermons yesterday, invited him to return and try Philadelphia again.

John L. Fehr, American business representative of the Chinese merchants' agency here, who after completing a sentence six years ago, fearlessly faced the world, and has sent word to Mrs. Burke that he will furnish the stock to start her husband in the cigar business again. Fehr is a cigar and tobacco dealer. The news reached Mrs. Burke in her bed, where she has been since the news of her husband's confession reached her. She had not heard of it until that time.

There are no strings to Fehr's offer. Kind words and even the intercession of his fellows is not what Burke needs, he insists. Bread and butter aid is what is needed, and he is willing to provide it. If Burke wants to come back his opportunity is contained in the following letter:

"If William Burke returns to Philadelphia and wants to accept my help, I will furnish him with stock and fixtures for a cigar store. I know how hard it is to live down a mistake."

"John L. Fehr."

Mrs. Burke's sister made the following statement:

"My sister's hope is that Mr. Burke will see the letter and return. The suspense has been terrible. If he returns to my sister he will be more than welcomed. We fear he has become desperate. His wife is waiting for him. She believes his story because he became a changed man just at the time he says the other man began to threaten him by telling what he knew."

"My sister says she knew something was worrying him every minute, but he never told her what it was. Before this came into their lives they lived happily. He was a model husband, and while he looked after their cigar business during the day he worked at his trade as a hardware finisher. He became a father to my sister's little girl. He gave the child his name and was all that a father could have been."

That the appearance of his nemesis some months ago drove Burke to drink excessively is admitted by his friends. They deny that he again yielded to the drug habit, which his statement says was responsible for his arrest during his criminal career. He was one of the leaders in a strike of union men in a big manufacturing plant where he worked about a year ago and when the strikers failed he was not taken back.

The mayor has also been requested to express his opinion as to another proposed act and a very important one. This provides that all taxes must be paid not later than Oct. 15 and that on and after Nov. 1, interest on unpaid taxes shall be charged at the rate of 8 per cent.

On blanks which are furnished by the committee for the purpose, the city officials are requested to state the total assessed valuation for 1912, 1916 and 1921; the tax levy for each of those years; the amount of the taxes remaining uncollected; and in considerable detail the total revenue available for paying it off, etc. Similar information is desired in regard to all debts paid last year. The amount of uncollected taxes is expected to be collected for every year as far back as 1902.

The following information is desired as of January first of this year: Borrowing capacity; debt authorized and unissued; net amount available from loans within the ten limit; trust funds borrowed or used; loans outside the debt limit; temporary loans; number of assessed polls; average per cent. of poll taxes collected; and average per cent. of property taxes collected.

City Officials to Furnish Information

The special legislative committee which is investigating the question of municipal finance, has requested the city officials of Lowell to furnish information relative to the financial condition of the city.

For abolition of nuisance to conserve the public health, five years.

GOWN OF STRIPE DRATINE

Wool ratine is a material that bids fair to be much used in the making of fall and early winter costumes. This fabric is particularly happy when employed for the one piece frock, and such a model is to be seen in the illustration. It is made of striped green and white ratine, with touches of black velvet. The natty little hat is an autumn shape that will be found serviceable for every day wear. It is of hunter's green felt, soft and pliable, as are all the hats of the season, and it is trimmed with a tuft of green and black feathers where the shape turns up abruptly at one side of the front.

THE LOWELL SOCIALISTS

Want a Hearing on Eight Hour Law Violation

The Lowell Socialist club does not want any more hearings on alleged violations of the eight-hour law before Commissioner George H. Brown, before Commissioner George H. Brown. The club has received a complaint relative to violations of the law in the operation of the car sprinklers and they ask to have the hearing before the whole municipal council rather than before Mr. Brown, obtaining that conference with the commissioners would waste a great deal of time and energy.

Lowell, Mass., Aug. 16, 1912.
To His Honor, the Mayor, and the Members of the Municipal Council:
In asking for a hearing before the municipal council on the alleged violations of the eight-hour law in the different departments, the club has voted to refer the hearing to Commissioners Barrett and Brown. Mr. Barrett gave a hearing to the committee on Tuesday, Aug. 12, and there we learned that Commissioner Brown would grant the hearing Aug. 16. I wish to inform the council that several conferences have been held with said commissioner, extending over a period of seven months, relating to the violation of the operation of the eight-hour law on street sprinklers, and we feel that a further conference would be a waste of time and energy, so we desire to be heard before the full council. We will present our case in the evening.

Very truly yours,

William E. Sprout,
Sec. pro tem of Lowell Socialist club.

BOW WOW WON

GEORGE LEES' WHIPPET DEFEAT-ED ED GILLIGAN'S "LANE'S TOMMY"

The race between George Lees' "Bow Wow" and James Gilligan's "Lane's Tommy," which was held in Lawrence Saturday afternoon, resulted in a victory for the former. Mr. Lees' whippet captured the race by three yards, despite the fact that "Lane's Tommy" was the favorite in the betting. The race was witnessed by a large crowd of enthusiasts, including many from Lowell. The event was run off at Riding park and the grounds were black with people. After the winner was decided, Mr. Lees was surrounded by a number of dog fanciers, and he received many challenges which he will accept in the near future. Among those that he is anxious to put his pet against is "Young Fido" and a match between these two whippets is very likely.

SOLDIER'S BODY

WAS FOUND IN PISCATAQUA RIVER AT PORTSMOUTH

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 19.—The body of Frank Reardon, 39 years old, of the 10th company, Coast Artillery corps, stationed at Fort Constitution, Newcastle, was found early yesterday on the flats off Newcastle avenue in the Piscataqua river.

Under the theory of foul play having been committed, the police and army officers yesterday conducted an investigation, as the result of which two soldiers were placed under arrest.

Reardon's body when found bore a number of bruises.

Residents of that section informed the police that about 1 o'clock yesterday morning they heard a man cry for help.

CAMPERS DANCED

The campers at Nabnasset pond held their first annual dance Friday evening in the pavilion at Nabnasset grove. About 350 campers and friends attended.

The matrons were Mrs. Joseph Mullin, Mrs. Henry Dotton, Mrs. Charles Scribner, Mrs. Alexander Gardner, and Mrs. Hannah Barrows. Henry Dotton was general manager and floor director.

JUMPS FROM WINDOW AND IS BADLY HURT

BANKERS MAY HANDLE THE CAMPAIGN FUND

Greek Woman Frightened by Italian Attack

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—Racial trouble between Greek and Italian families living in the tenement house at 25 Hanover avenue, North End, came near resulting seriously last night when four Italians attempted to force their way into the tenement of a Greek family, so badly frightening a woman that she jumped into a yard from a window.

For several minutes there was intense excitement, with the usual accompaniment of shrills for the police. This was kept up until the clang of the patrol wagon of the Hanover street station was heard nearing to the scene. Sergt. O'Donnell and half a dozen officers.

By the time the officers arrived all was quiet, however. It was some time before even such a keen investigator as Sergt. O'Donnell could get to the bottom of the trouble. The officers at last found, however, all the trouble centered about the arrest on Saturday night of Antonio Marcelli, an Italian lodger. He was locked up on a charge of drunkenness and it is said the officers' attention was attracted to him by Frank Sangers and his wife, Mary, who occupy the street floor tenement. The Sangers are natives of Greece.

About 10 last night, it is alleged, four of his friends made an attack on the tenement. One of the men, it is claimed, insisted the door be opened or he would shoot. Then the windows were broken and this was followed by the crashing in of one of the door panels.

Mrs. Sangers, fearing she would be killed, ran to a rear window and jumped out into the yard. She was not injured.

Antonio Vincenzo was arrested on a charge of making threats. He probably will be charged in court with wilfully damaging property.

Democrats Are to Make Request

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Banks and trust companies throughout the country are to be asked by the democratic national committee to receive and transmit to their proper sources subscriptions to the campaign fund, not only of the democratic, but also of the republican and progressive parties.

The plan is in pursuance of the committee's popular subscription idea. Acting Chairman McAdoo made it known yesterday by giving out a statement embodying a letter which he announced he had sent to every bank and trust company in the United States, requesting them to agree to receive and transmit subscriptions to each of the three national parties.

He accompanied his letter to the banks with a letter from Gov. Woodrow Wilson, who declared that "to bring about the election of a president through a campaign financed by popular subscriptions would be a distinct and gratifying triumph."

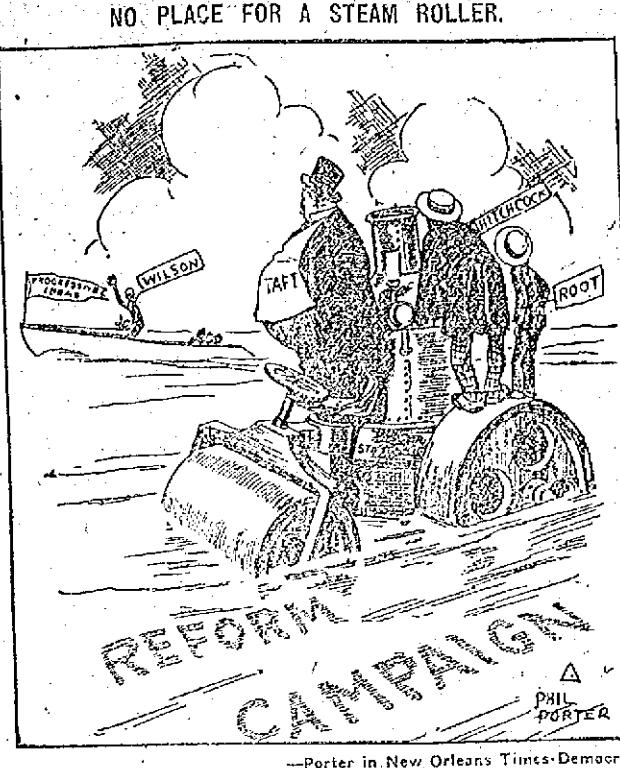

In his letter Mr. McAdoo expressed the idea that the popular subscription movement was directly in the line of freeing presidential campaigns from the suspicion of sinister influences, and declared that the democratic party favored the "financing of presidential campaign by the people themselves."

He urged the need of convenient and responsible agencies for the receipt of subscriptions, and asked the banks and trust companies to perform "the same patriotic service" that the newspapers already had undertaken.

"Will you agree to receive and transmit subscriptions to the democratic national committee, the republican national and progressive national committees?" the letter continued.

"Speaking for the democratic national committee, I would ask you to act for no one unless for all. This must be a patriotic service to the public and not to any one party. Each day a list of the names agreeing to act will be given to the press."

"In order that you may know the attitude of Gov. Wilson in regard to popular subscriptions, I enclose copy of a letter from him on this subject, just received."

—Porter in New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The letter from Gov. Wilson to Mr. McAdoo is as follows:

"Dear Mr. McAdoo: To bring about the election of a president through a campaign financed by popular subscriptions would be a distinct and gratifying triumph. It would strikingly evidence the renewed supremacy of the people and would mean the permanent emancipation of our government from those selfish influences which too long have relied upon to furnish the campaign funds in return for favors to be bestowed."

"I am in hearty sympathy with every effort that may contribute to such a result."

"The idea back of the proposed contributors movement is thoroughly commendable, and I hope that you and your associates will push it and make it an effective instrument for the attainment of so praiseworthy an object."

Very sincerely yours,

"Woodrow Wilson."

GIRL RESCUED

SHE WAS SAVED FROM DROWNING BY MISS FISHER

NORTH SCITUATE, Aug. 13.—Miss Isabelle French of Newburyport, 15 years old and a graduate of this year's class of the Bridgewater Normal school, was saved from drowning yesterday afternoon through the efforts of Miss Emily Fisher of Norwood, also 15, aided by Miss Fisher's father and brother, Curtis, and A. Tower and Bernard Collamore, the latter of East Bridgewater.

Miss French was unconscious when taken from the water and Miss Fisher was exhausted. Both required the attention of a physician.

It was shortly before 1 o'clock, about high tide, that Miss French went bathing in the surf, which was running high and strong, with a powerful undertow. She was in the vicinity of Wall Rock, Minot, when a huge wave came in and the undertow took her out fully 25 feet beyond the danger line.

The other bathers quickly realized her position. Miss French screamed once before she disappeared in the sea and Miss Emily Fisher, who was poised on Wall Rock for a dive, struck out boldly to her aid.

She reached the struggling girl and tried to bring her in, while Mr. Fisher managed to get two large oars to them and finally to reach them himself.

A surfboat was launched and manned by Curtis Fisher and A. Tower, and with the aid of Bernard Collamore, a chauffeur, the girls were brought to the beach.

WOMAN ARRESTED

SHE IS HELD AS A FEMALE FAGIN

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—Following the arrest late Saturday night in a store on Pleasant street, Mulfien, of Angelina Manolini, daughter of Caterina Manolini of 332 Pearl street, charged with shoplifting, the Malden Police yesterday raided the house on 255 Pearl street, and arrested Mrs. Angelina Calabria on a similar charge.

When the Manolini was arrested she had on her person and in a schoolbag about $10 worth of articles which she admitted having taken during the course of the evening from several stores. She related that she had been taught to do this by an elderly woman whose name she did not know, but whose description and address she was able to furnish. Following the child's information the police found the Calabria woman in the act of burning up various articles of clothing. Two trunks filled with clothes and other articles valued at $250 were recovered.

The girl was released in the custody of her mother, while Mrs. Calabria, unable to furnish bail, was detained at the station house. She will appear in court today.

CUT HER THROAT

WOMAN'S CONDITION IS NOT CONSIDERED SERIOUS

Mrs. Michael J. Slattery of 54 Auburn street attempted to end her life Saturday night by drawing a razor across her throat. But for the timely interference of her husband she would undoubtedly have succeeded in carrying out her intent.

Mrs. Slattery is an elderly woman and has not been enjoying the best of health of late and it is thought that she made the attempt on her life during a temporary aberration of mind. She entered a side room of the house about 7 o'clock Saturday night and had picked up a razor and made a slight gash in her throat when her husband rushed into the room and after a struggle succeeded in overpowering her and gaining possession of the weapon.

She was taken to St. John's hospital where she received treatment. The slash is not considered a serious one.

STRIKE NOT ENDED IN NEW BEDFORD

The Sixth Week of the Struggle

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 19.—The strike of weavers in New Bedford which has thrown 12,000 hands out of work entered today upon its sixth week with no prospect of settlement in sight. To date the trouble, which arose over the objection of the weavers to the grading system of payment has cost the operatives in wages $340,000 and the unions in strike benefits $37,500, with an increase to this sum of $75,000 each week. The shut down has cost the mills in fixed charges $250,000, according to an estimate by a prominent mill official.

BARN BURNED

TWO HORSES PERISHED IN THE FIRE

WORCESTER, Aug. 13.—Two horses were burned to death and several houses threatened yesterday when the barn of William A. Robertson of 1154 Pleasant street was destroyed by fire.

Maurice Powers, a hester, who was asleep in the barn, was dragged out with his clothing ablaze. He was treated by Dr. John F. Moore, police surgeon, and rushed to the city hospital in the police auto ambulance. He was burned in the body, but it was reported at the hospital tonight that he will live.

When the fire apparatus arrived the building was a mass of flames and the roofs of three buildings nearby were afire. After attempting to extinguish the blaze at the barn the firemen turned their efforts entirely toward protecting the surrounding territory. The barn contained a number of carriages, farming implements and several tons of hay, which was recently harvested. Three horses dashed from the burning building and were later found roaming in distant parts of the city. The loss is estimated at $3000.

Because of Powers calling the name of a chum, it was supposed for a time that he was in the ruins. After the fire Patrolman Robert Powers and others searched the debris, but no trace of a body was found.

The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

MAN LOCKED UP

AFTER HE SAID HE WAS ROBBED

FITCHBURG, Aug. 19.—The police last night were investigating a claim made by Kusta Saarinen that he was held up and robbed by a gang of men Saturday evening. When Saarinen came into the police station his face was badly bruised and he had scalp wound. He told the police that the wounds were the result of an assault which had been committed upon him and, after beating him, robbed him of all the money he had, which he said was $2. Saarinen, according to the police, showed signs of having been drinking liquor to excess and was locked up pending an investigation.

His wounds were such that he required the attention of a physician. Saarinen will be arraigned tomorrow on the charge of drunkenness and later the police will examine him for the purpose of learning something about the alleged assault and robbery.

RAID BY POLICE

RESULTED IN ARREST OF SEVEN MEN

WORCESTER, Aug. 19.—As a result of raids at a clubhouse at Lake Quinsigamond and at a boarding house in the Belmont Hill section of Worcester, 17 men were arrested yesterday and booked at the Worcester police station, all but one of them charged with being present at a game on the Lord's Day.

Officers Condon and White of the Shrewsbury police department visited a place at the lake and arrested nine men, who gave their names when booked as John P. Burns, James Snow, Frank Holman, John Rice, David Nolan, James Henry, Oliver H. Smith, Frank Dendane and James C. Davies. The latter was booked on a common nuisance charge. All remained bail for appearance in court today.

MAN JUMPED FROM WINDOW AND WAS FATALLY INJURED

He Was a Sufferer From Epilepsy
—Maid Was Witness of the Tragedy

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—In the presence of a terror-stricken maid, Daniel Shields Gunning, a wealthy resident of Saratoga Springs, and a nephew of Col. G. P. Lawton of New York city, committed suicide by jumping from the fourth-story window of his suite at the Hotel Tournai into Tamworth street yesterday afternoon at 12:45 o'clock. The body was removed to the City hospital morgue and later will be sent to Albany for burial.

The young man has been subject to epileptic fits since childhood. About midnight Saturday he was seized with an attack and early yesterday morning went from one fit into another, which tired his cousin and vallet to send for Dr. Grant. After the doctor left Gunning seemed much better and his cousin and vallet left him in bed about 11:20 while they went down to breakfast. On their way up to his rooms they and other occupants of the hotel heard the maid shout:

"My God, a young man has gone out of the window of room 424!" The cousin and vallet burst into the room, but were too late. Policemen from the LaGrange street station a few steps away were soon on hand and a crowd was drawn to the scene. Hotel porters helped by the police, put the body of the young man in station 4's ambulance. Doctors at the City hospital said life was extinct and the body was removed to the morgue.

Experience of Maid
The maid, according to the young man's relatives and the hotel officials, was strangled room 424, the adjoining room to 426, where Gunning was fast asleep, when his cousin and vallet went down stairs to breakfast. Suddenly, she says, he appeared before her in his night clothes and his eyes

BLACK HAND LETTER DEMANDS MONEY

Rossi Told to Leave
$300 Under Tree

MANSFIELD, Aug. 19.—It became known yesterday that Antonio Rossi, of 724 North Main street received a "black hand" letter a few days ago.

The letter demanded $300. It instructed Rossi to place the money in a cigar box and to deposit the same under a designated apple tree near the Mansfield standpipe. Rossi was ordered to leave the money before 3 a.m. yesterday. The threat contained in the note was that if Rossi failed to carry out the instructions he and his family would be killed. Further warning was: "Don't tell the police; if you do, there will be something doing."

The letter was wholly in Italian. It went on to say that the money desired would be returned to Rossi by Labor day. It declared that the writer was acting upon advices of a society which had named Rossi as one to approach. "We are going soon to do a millionaire and you will then be returned, that which we now borrow," the letter said.

The letter was postmarked Mansfield.

Rossi was considerably disturbed. If he had been a single man, he would probably have kept still about the letter, but having a family and being a hard working man, he thought the matter over and decided he should have police protection. He therefore called upon Chief Kennedy. The chief began a systematic investigation immediately. And he and his assistants are continuing in their effort to trace the letter. Chief Kennedy had the Rossi house and the "apple tree" and in fact the entire section under surveillance all last night but nobody put in an appearance. It is thought that the sender of the letter may have observed Rossi when he notified Chief Kennedy and was therefore afraid of being caught.

Not so. Backache is a symptom of some serious trouble which sooner or later declares itself, either kidney trouble or some female derangement. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be relied upon to go to the root of the trouble and quickly relieve this most distressing symptom.

Nearly 10 years of unparalleled success proves its value in conquering female ills.

Justice John W. Goff, Who Will Preside at the Trial of the Rosenthal Slayers

JUSTICE JOHN W. GOFF

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Justice John W. Goff has been designated by Governor Dix to preside at a special term of the supreme court to be convened on Sept. 3 for the trial of the murderers of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler who was killed for "squealing." Justice Goff studied the ways of criminals as an assistant district attorney. As special counsel he harried the "guerrillas" who violated elections by violence and fraud. The Lexow legislative committee inquiry which he conducted was the heaviest blow ever struck at the "system."

Succeeding Frederick Smyth, a terror to evildoers, he held the historic title of recorder until that survival of an older system was merged with the present court system. Few men in the city can have a more intimate knowledge of the ways of the underworld.

DEEPER WATERWAY ASSN.

The Boston to Beaufort, N. C., inland waterway will be the chief topic of discussion at the convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterway Association, which will be held at the Hotel Griswold, New London, Sept. 4, 5 and 6.

It is expected that 250 delegates, of which over 200 will be from Massachusetts, will be present. So many mayors of seaport cities have already signified their intention of being present, that it is probable that a special mayor's session will be arranged. A number of boards of trade of Massachusetts cities, notably those of Beverly, Quincy and Springfield, have taken the matter up officially, and from these places large delegations will be sent.

Other boards of trade are expected to take official action within the next few days.

An elaborate program has been arranged, which includes, besides the business of the convention, sight-seeing tours, public sports, and aquatic carnival, and a reception and dance on the evening of Sept. 6. It is expected that President Taft will arrive in the Mayflower during the proceeding and deliver an address.

The Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange plans a two days' trip to take in the last two days of the convention. Special sleepers will leave at midnight, Sept. 5, and remain side-tracked at New London till late the following morning. Return will be made Friday night arriving in Boston at 11 p. m.

WOMAN'S TERROR PROVED TO BE A THIEF'S SAFETY

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—While Mrs. Klem, mute from terror, looked on masked burglar robbed the summer home of Walter E. Klem, the Philadelphia banker, at 17 South Providence avenue in the fashionable Chelsea section of Atlantic City, obtaining jewelry valued at more than $12,000.

Awakened by no sound made by the thief, but rather by a premonition of danger, Mrs. Klem saw the burglar rifling her jewel case. By her side was her husband asleep. Fearing that if she woke him up or made an outcry, the burglar might murder them both, Mrs. Klem pretended to be asleep, but through half-closed eyelids watched the masked man make the biggest haul in a series of cottage robberies which have terrorized the resort all summer.

Mrs. Klem had ample opportunity to see the burglar and as soon as he left the house she awoke her husband, who jumped for the telephone to notify the police. The burglar had cut the wires.

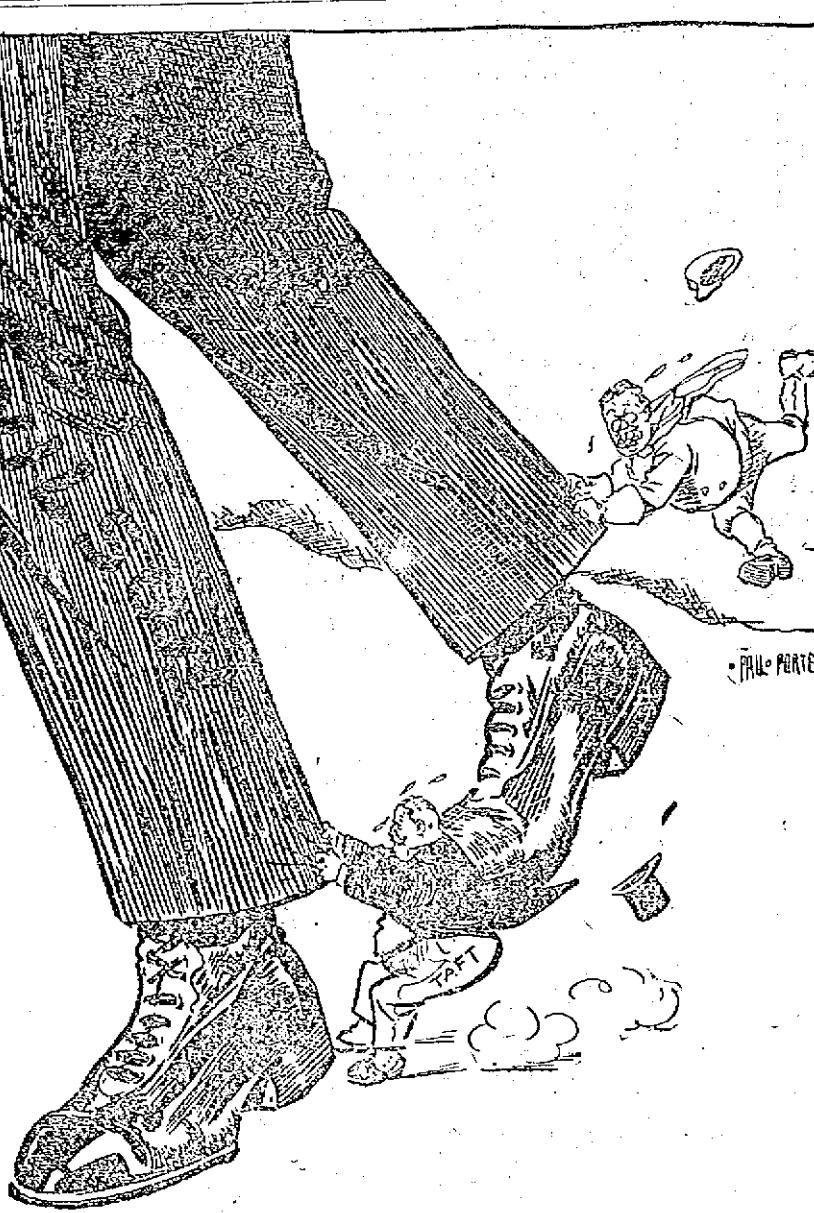

INJURIES FATAL

TIMOTHY SHEEDY PASSED AWAY
AT ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL

Timothy Sheedy, aged 32 years, died at St. John's hospital yesterday as a result of a fracture of the skull which he sustained when he fell at the Lowell Bleachery, where he was employed as night watchman.

Just how the accident occurred is not known, for Sheedy was alone in his part of the mill when it took place, but it is presumed he fell from the fourth story. He was found in an unconscious condition and removed to the hospital Saturday night, but despite the efforts of the attending physician, he did not regain his senses and passed away at 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

Decased, who made his home with his brother John, 15 Madison street, is survived by a mother, Mrs. Richard Sheedy of Ireland, and six brothers, Patrick and Dennis of Ireland, Daniel of California, and John, James and Thomas of this city. He was a member of Division 11, A. O. H. His body was removed to the home of his brother John this forenoon by Undertaker McDermott.

GULLIVER AND THE LILLIPUTIANS

1500 MEN ARE ENTERED IN THE WAKEFIELD TOURNAMENT

New England Military Association
Conducting Event That Interests New England

WAKEFIELD, Aug. 19.—The Bay State rifle range, although running with water as a result of heavy rains yesterday, was the scene of the military marksmen of New England, more than 1000 of whom are entered in the eighth annual tournament of the New England Military Rifle association which will be held this week.

This year's shoot surpasses in the number of entries and in the number of contests and prizes any rifle shoot in this country, aside from the national contests which have been held at Camp Perry, O., and at Sea Girt, N. J.

The fact that there is no national shoot at Camp Perry this year has served to make the New England shoot greater. Many new matches were added to the program for next week as a result, and corresponding prizes were donated. The entry list which yesterday ran well over 1000 may, some of the officials of the meet predict, closely approach the 1500 mark, as many post entries are expected.

Principal among the new matches, and among the matches of the week, in fact, is the Hayden All-American match for a trophy. The First American Marksmen, valued at $1000 and $300 in cash offered by Col. Charles Hayden of Boston. This match is open to teams of eight men each from any part of North or South America. The entries to date are from all the New England states except Vermont, New York, New Jersey and the United States navy and United States Marine corps. This match will be shot on Wednesday.

Another important team match is the shoot for the New England interstate trophy on Friday and Saturday. Every New England state except Vermont will be represented in this match for the first time in five years. Vermont has never sent a team to Wakefield. Massachusetts has won this trophy for the past eight years.

On Wednesday, the big day of the tournament, there will also be shot the General Banquet match for the regimental championship of New England.

All the Massachusetts regiments and many from the other New England states have entered. The Fifth Massachusetts regiment is the present holder of the title.

Another championship match is the First Corps Cadets' competition on Thursday, which carries with it the company H. First New Hampshire, won last year.

The new matches include an innovation in the form of a "surprise fire," which is to be tried for the first time in this country. In this match the marksman stands "ready" and shoots

10 times at targets which appear for only three seconds at a time. Governor Robert E. Bass of New Hampshire has created a new match for marksmen who have never won a prize in national or interstate competition.

MME. SEMBRICH

WAS INJURED BUT SHE SAVED
HER DOG

PARIS, Aug. 19.—All Paris is talking of the bravery of Mme. Marcella Sembrich, the prima donna, who risked her life and received a broken wrist yesterday in rescuing her pet dachshund from beneath the wheels of a trolley car at Oncby, near here.

Mme. Sembrich had driven from her home to several of the Oncby shops, and while waiting in front of one of them for the clerk to come out, allowed the dog to step to the street.

The animal ran around the carriage and across the tracks, directly in front of the approaching car. It made a frantic effort to get out of the way, but the fender caught him and he was dragged, yelping with fear, underneath the wheels.

With a scream, the singer pulled open the carriage door and leaped to the rescue of her pet.

She ran, stooping slightly, and snatched up the dog just as it seemed as though it were to be ground to pieces. In her haste, just as she released the animal from the imprisoning fender, Mme. Sembrich slipped and fell, snapping one of her wrist-bones.

The motorman brought the car to a standstill before it further endangered the dachshund or its mistress.

Bystanders assisted the singer, who was in great pain from the accident to her carriage. She was driven away, holding the frightened dog in one arm and with her injured hand, which had been bandaged by a physician, lying outstretched along the cushion.

WINDSOR, Conn., Aug. 19.—The man described as the "gray-haired old gentleman," whose automobile turned turtle on the Millford road during a joy ride last Thursday morning, causing the death of Miss Ann Carelli of New Haven, was identified last night as the Hon. Walter S. Hastings, ex-assemblyman and grain dealer.

The revelation has created a sensation in Windsor. Mr. Hastings almost concealed his connection with the affair, but it leaked out through persons who had seen him during the ride after a police investigation.

BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—A national baseball championship will be settled in this city this week when nine cities will compete in the fifth annual baseball tournament of the Union Printers' National Baseball League for the "Gary Hermann cup."

On Saturday will come the final championship game. Wednesday will be given over mostly to pleasure.

Winning the championship in 1938, New York was successful. In 1939-10, while Chicago copied the honors last year at St. Louis. The principal business meeting of the league will come on Saturday morning.

Brilliant Base Running is What the Baseball Fans Like Now

They Are Pleased With This Feature of the Great American Game

No. 1 shows Snodgrass of the New York Giants grabbing the bag. He had stolen second, then took a long lead, but was almost caught napping by Catcher Johnny Kling of the Boston Nationals. It may also be stated that the second baseman was a little bit off, too, for he had to slide back to the bag in the attempt to tag Snodgrass out.

No. 2 shows a close play at first base in a recent New York-Boston game. There were two out when this happened. Carrigan sent a fly right back of first base. Chase went after it but failed to catch the ball. Pitcher Quigley went over to cover the bag, but Chase forgot to throw the ball. Carrigan was safe, but he himself was excited and tripped over first base. Later Carrigan went over the plate with the winning run. Had Chase made the throw Carrigan would have been out.

No. 3 is a desperate slide into third base in a St. Louis-New York game. In trying to make the sack Channell of the New York Americans broke his leg.

No. 4 shows Herzog of the New York Giants sliding back to second base. He did not reach the bag, as the baseman blocked his way.

No. 5 is a perfect hook slide made by Zinn of the New York Americans. This is not dangerous to the runner or guardian of the sack.

No. 6 is a clever block by Moriarity of the Detroit Americans. Note how the Tiger boy prevented Hartsel of the New York from getting his feet on the base.

No. 7 is the poor way to slide into any base. There are but few players in the big leagues today that slide head first into the base. There is always danger of one having his arms or head injured.

No. 8 is the straight slide. This is considered very useful when the dirt is very dry. It raises lots of dust and is hard for the umpire to decide whether he is out or not.

No. 9 shows a hard try for the plate in a recent Cleveland-New York game. Street made a desperate attempt to steal home, but lost out by a few inches.

Never before in the history of baseball has there been such a fair way to repeat. Their example! Giants' opponents have made more hits than the managers of the big white team is home. The reason has made other managers do some things that McGraw's men, but have lost the league's game given so much attention to this is probably due to the fact that thinking McGraw has the greatest team in the country. In a recent New York-Cincinnati game, the New York Giants won the pennant, but the New York Reds made every leader has his men practicing the last year on the base lines and are in many times this and last year the ten hits, while the Giants made five.

but New York won out by a score of 3 to 2. It was the superior sack running that won for the Giants in that game.

Good base runners are students.

Their brains work faster than the men they match wits with. They secure a long lead and "feel" the instant it is safe to start to obtain advantage of every fraction of time between the pitcher's motion and the arrival of the ball at second or third from the catcher.

Getting away fast and reaching top speed in the fewest possible strides is the secret of base running. Ty Cobb, Detroit's great outfielder, is the most brilliant example of this art today. He is at top speed in his second step.

In former years second base was generally the object, but third and home are the spots the players now aim for.

Sliding is generally feet first. Terry Turner of Cleveland is one of the very few players who still slide head first successfully. Ty Cobb made the "hook" and "fallaway" slide popular because he was successful.

Men like Bill Lange, Billy Sunday and Mike Kelly, depended more upon sheer weight and their spikes than upon cleverness when stealing. Few basemen could hold the ball after being knocked down by them, and many an infielder hesitated to see these big fellows piling in at full speed.

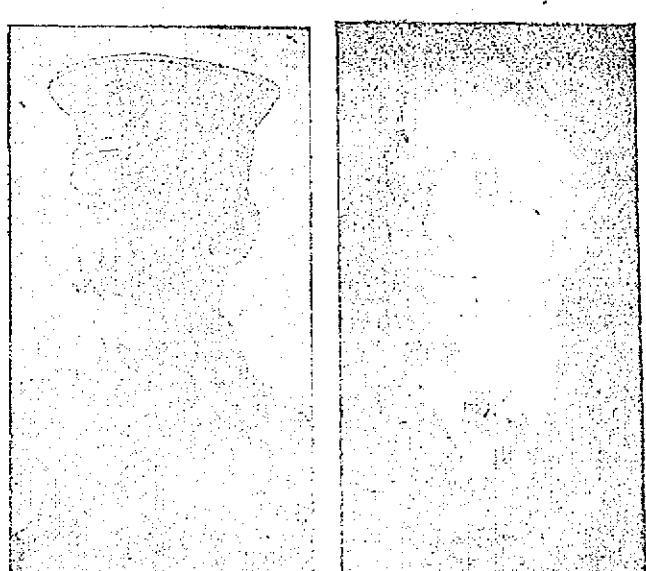

Today the lightning use of hands and feet rather than brute force succeeds. The ability to hook one foot around a base, avoiding the infelder's hands, is of more value than such acts as Snodgrass was guilty of when he spiked Baker last fall.

A good base runner makes life miserable for a nervous pitcher. The Giants have a false start from first which upsets many a heavier. The runner, with a fair lead, starts at full speed, to stop after half a dozen steps and dive back. The effect on the pitcher is to "get his goat."

After Taking Part in the War Game

CAPT. JAMES M. GRIGG, CO. K. CPT. WALTER R. LYNN, CO. G.

CAPT. PETERSON, CO. C.

CAPT. PHILIP McNULTY, CO. M.

The "boys" are back and the brave red platoon of defense have done a seafaring job. They started home after the war and are now in Lowell. They are all well and happy, while the rest of the companies of the New York, New Haven & Hartford regiment are not back yet. They are still in camp at the rear of the city, in which they have been quartered. The training camp is a very fine place, where the men are well fed and they take great pleasure in the exercises of a new life.

On Saturday they started out early and went to Botsford and later they struck Hawleyville, where the big battle took place, according to some of the officers who were in a position to see all that went on. They witnessed a most beautiful spectacle in the entire territory for miles around and was covered with uniformed men, and when the gun started its work, the sight was magnificent.

This year the orders have for the first time in the history of the war, been issued to the men to go to the front and they take great pleasure in the exercises of a new life.

claim they are very useful. All is now done with the blowing of the whistle and signals of the lines, and thus works marvelously.

The Lowell companies left Hawleyville, Conn., about 100 miles from home, at 12 o'clock Sunday noon and reached home at 4:30 p.m. They have nothing to complain of with the exception of the water, which at times was very scarce, but they say this comes in nice for war maneuvers, as they would not expect water at every hundred yards when on the battlefield. They are all well pleased with the maneuvers and all came back home sound and safe from any disease or fatigue.

NEW HAVEN ROAD
PETITIONS FOR RIGHT TO BUY MORE STOCK

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The public service commission, second district, has received a petition from the New York, New Haven & Hartford railway company asking for consent to purchase shares of stock of the New York, Ontario & Western company not now owned by the New Haven. The stock issued and now outstanding is reported $160,000 common, $8,113,200. The New Haven now owns and holds $2,669,000 preferred stock and $2,160,000 common stock. It desires to increase the minority capital stock consisting of 15 shares of preferred stock and 250,000 shares of common stock.

The reasons given are that the New Haven has a good faith lawfully acquired the majority interest in the capital stock of the Ontario & Western and believes that the latter cannot be developed as a valuable natural extension of its lines by such natural extension the New Haven will be able to reach Lake Ontario and some of the larger cities of eastern New York and the intermediate points of Pennsylvania; that the Ontario & Western Railway company in no sense competes with the New Haven; that since the New Haven has acquired the majority stock in the New York, Ontario & Western it has also acquired further interest and has improved the Central New England railroad, which is another natural extension of the New Haven's lines; that it will be an advantage to the present minority stockholders as well as to the New Haven and the New Haven can acquire all of the minority stock on fair terms.

INDUSTRY COUNCIL, R. A.

About 75 members of Industry council, Royal Arcanum, attended the annual outing at Willow Dale yesterday afternoon. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the "outing" had to be held indoors and the spacious roller skating hall at the park served the purpose very well. A dinner was enjoyed, followed by games and speeches, and the heavy rain did not spoil the general good time which was enjoyed by all.

TWO REPORTS PRESENTED BY THE MOSS COMMITTEE

Relative to the Florida Everglades
Charges—Majority Report Does
Not Criticise Sec'y Wilson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The Moss committee today presented to the house two reports of its investigation of the Florida Everglades charges and the subsequent inquiry into the drainage division of the department of agriculture. The reports take up the charge that a certain circular unfavorable to sale of Everglades lands was suppressed in the department of agriculture through influence of real estate operators; the question of relations between Assistant Secretary Hays of the department and J. O. Wright, a former government employee in a land project at Lake Matamuskeet, N. C., and the dismissal of C. G. Elliott and A. D. Morehouse from the drainage division of the department on technical charges involving the transfer of government funds from one account to another.

Secretary Wilson escaped personal arraignment at the hands of the majority in the findings in the Everglades charges. The department's policy toward the Everglades was characterized as vacillating "most unfortunate" and having subjected the department to much suspicion and criticism. The minority report signed by Representatives Sloan of Nebraska who said his views were approved by Representatives Higgins and Madden, held that

26TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY WAS OBSERVED

Friends Greeted Mr. and Mrs. James St. Hilaire
at Their Home

MR. JAMES ST. HILAIRE

A very pretty reunion of relatives and friends took place Saturday afternoon and evening at the home of Asst. Secy. Hays. The minority report, on the other hand, acquitted the latter of the charges that he "despised all restraint and attempted to capitalize his official position and draw quick dividends from official opportunity."

The Everglades investigation arose through the charges that certain reports prepared by government engineers had been withheld from publication, with the inference that such action was in the interest of land dealers, C. G. Elliott, chief of drainage, and Assistant Engineer Moorehouse, who were brought into the controversy, were found by the committee to have made an arrangement in connection with North Carolina swamp lands that was in violation of the law, but inasmuch as there was no profit intended in it the committee declared that the men had been too severely disciplined by agricultural department officials.

Assistant Secretary Hays' connection with the matter arose through a private arrangement he made with J. O. Wright, former drainage engineer, for the handling of some drained land in North Carolina, which did not belong to the government.

Majority Report.

The majority report cited Wright's admissions of his familiarity with real estate promoters and of accepting development company stock and fees while engaged officially in making surveys to reclaim land. It declared that thus engaged as a paid salesman and an interested purchaser he appeared before the North Carolina legislature as an official of the department of agriculture ostensibly to advise in the training of drainage legislation.

It later boasted, the report said, of securing the passage of a special statute there under which he was enabled to close a deal. His transactions were denounced by the majority as pursuant to a high sense of honor and integrity, which would justify dismissal if he were still in the government service. The report added that his services were not brought to the knowledge of his superiors or the drainage division.

The majority report cited testimony regarding frequent conferences of Assistant Secretary Hays and Engineer Wright, who has since become state drainage engineer of Florida, concerning the purchase and sale at a profit of the bed of Lake Matamuskeet, N. C.

Mr. Wright, the minority declared, did not seem to realize the inappropriateness of his own conduct.

In view of his confidential relations with Mr. Hays, the majority "found it difficult to escape the conviction that Mr. Hays was in full possession of the facts relative to Wright's deals and transactions when they were being negotiated," and that

Hays should have condemned them rather than to have encouraged them.

There was no evidence, however, that

Mr. Hays actually received any money profit out of any of these transactions.

Mr. Hays' office, said the majority, should be freed from all connection with "speculative enterprises and get-rich-quick" schemes.

"It is useless," the majority added,

to frame regulations for the government of employees, many of whom work for low salaries, and permit those in high positions to despise all restraint.

This is particularly true when the officers is to capitalize official position and collect dividends from official opportunity to deal further with this master. It calls the particular attention of Secretary Wilson to the record."

ROOSEVELT'S FIRST CAMPAIGN GUNS

Col. Roosevelt's opening addresses, delivered in Rhode Island and this state, show a sternness that has rarely appeared in any of his other addresses. He assails both the old parties as controlled and directed by bosses and the support of which he says is but a choice of evils.

He touched upon the tariff after the manner of the demagogue. "We stand for a protective tariff," he says, "but we wish to see the benefits of the protective tariff get into the pay envelopes of the wage worker." That is the old and delusive republican cry revived.

"The republican tariff," he says, "is a tariff for privilege in industry. The democratic proposal is a tariff to paralyze all industry."

Col. Roosevelt after a lot of such statements ventures to take this position:

We propose to deal with the tariff, schedule by schedule, in accordance with the reports of a nonpartisan commission of experts who shall make their reports, not on the theory of being good to somebody, but with the theory of doing justice primarily to the American wage worker and the American consumer.

He would employ the dilatory tactics of waiting for the reports of a special commission upon each particular schedule. The people of this country already know what that means and have had more than they want of it from the Taft administration. It means that not less than ten years would be required to investigate one-third of the schedules. Taft has vetoed several tariff bills because the tariff board had not got around to report upon the particular schedules involved. The tariff board has been used as an excuse for delay, and for this purpose Col. Roosevelt apparently would use it if he were placed in control of the government. Any schedule that he did not want to touch would be referred to the tariff commission which simply means that it he put on the shelf for a year or two at least and then perhaps until another administration came into power.

What is apparent in Roosevelt's speeches is his lack of honesty and sincerity. He asserts that the men who nominated Taft were a lot of political freebooters who had no regard for the rights or interests of the people.

In his Boston speech Roosevelt magnified his attack on the courts and the constitution and defended the submission of court decisions to the people for approval or rejection. Particularly did he plead for the exercise of popular power to more easily change the constitution and thus overrule the legal decisions of the supreme court. In his discussion of the judiciary he said:

"We desire to accept the view that ten millions of men and women of New York are helpless if the worthy elderly gentlemen who make a fetish of some bygone system of economics happen to think that they ought not to have the social and industrial justice that Massachusetts and Iowa accept as elementary."

This is a mild sample of the Colonel's strictures upon the state and federal courts. His contention throughout is, that the other parties are inherently bad, that the new party has avoided the evils of both and stands alone for simple justice to the masses.

That Roosevelt is an able and ingenious demagogue is apparent from his speeches of Saturday. That he will draw a considerable portion of the unthinking masses is obvious, unless he be followed closely by democratic speakers who are able to expose his hypocrisy, his fallacies and the dangers of his political program.

It will not do for the democratic leaders to allow him to go on a general rampage throughout the country without taking active steps to offset his appeals, expose his sophistry, his inconsistency and his false charges. He promises a state of affairs under his new party; should it succeed, that could only result from the millennium; but the question for democrats to consider is, will the voters see through this man's rant and hypocrisy and in spite of his ingenious appeals vote for the democratic party, the only one that can bring to the people the relief so greatly needed?

THE RECKLESS CHAUFFEURS

The numerous automobile fatalities reported are due in large degree to the recklessness of youthful chauffeurs who fail to realize the power of the machines they operate and the danger of collision from fast driving. The young swell on the road with a lady by his side is out for speed, for a joy ride, if you will, and he cares little for the rules of the road or the rights and safety of others. Then the professional roadster thinks that the road is exclusively his, that all other vehicles should get into the ditch while he goes by. If they do not scampers to the side they must take the risk of collision, and it is thus that many of the collisions occur. Speed madness and outright recklessness are the chief elements of danger on the highways. But for these the auto owners who go out for a drive at moderate speed would get a great deal more enjoyment out of their machines.

NOTABLE ANNIVERSARY

Today is the hundredth anniversary of the great naval duel in which in 1812 the frigate Constitution sank the British gunboat Guerriere in the same region in which the Titanic was lost. That battle was the first to give the republic real prestige on the sea. It followed a number of the most humiliating defeats and reassured America's prowess on sea as well as on land. It lifted the United States from the position of a nonentity as a sea power to that of one forever after to be reckoned with by the greatest naval powers of the world. Today the United States while not a warlike power has a fleet that in essential qualities is not far behind the greatest in the world.

The London press has slight objection to granting free passage through the Panama canal to American vessels engaged in the coastwise trade. Foreign vessels cannot engage in this trade. But the Londoners do protest most vigorously against the proposition to extend this privilege to American ships engaged in foreign trade. They claim it would violate existing treaties.

The heirs of those who lost their lives on the Titanic have no legal claim for damages or compensation. Legislation is pending in congress, however, to make navigation companies responsible in law for deaths due to carelessness or mismanagement. The change will tend to make such companies more cautious.

The Bull Moose party is also a woman's party. Note the suffragists who are backing the Colonel's candidacy.

And over a kingdom of young men she holds her royal sway.

She is so dainty and so sweet,
So fetching and so fair.
It's little wonder at her feet

It is not strange that men should come
For many a weary mile,
To try to please her, if they can,
And have within her smile.

A word may well be said;
It is all right to love your heart,
But do not lose your head.

BAY STATE TROOPS
ARE UNDER CHARGES

Of Looting Store at Huntington Centre

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—That robbery, assault and battery and vandalism were committed by militiamen of the Red army during their recent war maneuvers in Connecticut is charged by many citizens along the line of the troops' recent march. A long list of complaints has been lodged with Gen. T. H. Bliss, commander-in-chief.

Another charge that is made, which is being investigated by United States officers, is that a number of the Massachusetts soldiers carried ball cartridges, which are strictly forbidden.

If only a few of so many reports in circulation in the last days of the Connecticut maneuvers are substantiated and a small part of the charges confirmed, a lack of discipline among the troops, or inability on the part of their officers to control them, will be revealed, which is likely to cost the Commonwealth of Massachusetts a considerably larger sum than had originally been anticipated for war game expenses.

Actual robbery is charged against some of the soldiers—assault and battery against others. On the day of the fight for the possession of Walnut Tree Hill, the actions of certain of the Massachusetts soldiers were said to have been of such a disgraceful nature that the attention of Brig.-Gen. Pierce, of the 1st Massachusetts brigade, was called to them and an investigation was promised.

It is asserted that men of a Massachusetts regiment entered a store at Huntington-Centre and nearly cleaned out the place. That they moreover refused to settle and threatened the proprietor with personal violence.

As a result of these actions the store was closed and the owner refused to open again while the soldiers remained in the vicinity.

On Saturday last a peddler came to Gen. Bliss with the complaint that soldiers of a certain Massachusetts organization had taken his wagon, overturned it and left it in a ditch, stolen some of his stock in trade and ruined the balance.

A Derby, Conn., newspaper declares that the Massachusetts soldiers made a most unfavorable impression on the citizens of that town as they marched through it bound for their camp at Charlton. A regular officer said that he had inspected some of the troops looking for ball cartridges, which are strictly forbidden, and that in one organization alone he had found 31 of these, and a lesser number in some of the others. These charges have been placed in the hands of United States officers, and it is likely that the investigation will be pursued until the guilty men have been discovered.

"I am disappointed with the showing of the Massachusetts troops," said an officer of the regular service, who had much to do with the state's troops.

When asked for particulars he excused himself from answering on the ground that matters were under investigation by Gen. Bliss.

The charges of misconduct are not leveled at Massachusetts troops alone, however. In a case which is now before the Derby, Conn., court, men of the 6th New York regiment are charged with having attacked a locomotive and a conductor, injuring them severely and nearly killing two special officers who went to the assistance of the railroad men.

PINIONED UNDER CAR BROOKLINE MAN IS IN A SERIOUS CONDITION

MIDDLEBORO, Aug. 19.—Pinned under the wreck of an overturned automobile, and with gasoline from a broken pipe dripping on his face, Lewis Flanders of 40 Lexington avenue, Brookline, was rescued just in time to escape asphyxiation on the state road at South Middleboro yesterday. He is now in a serious condition at his summer house at Shanty.

With Flanders in the machine were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Flanders, and the chauffeur. The auto was going along the state road at a moderate speed when it suddenly skidded on the wet macadam pavement. Before the chauffeur could regain control the machine turned over, pinning Flanders under it. The others were thrown from the car and were unharmed.

Before the other members of the party recovered Flanders had fallen into unconsciousness. Residents in the neighborhood and the occupants of a passing auto summoned to get him out by picking up the car with a fence rail. Dr. J. P. Leahy was called, and after attending him took him in his machine to his Shanty home.

Late in the afternoon another auto, driven by Edward G. Pratt of Mattapan and owned by the White Garage, Brockton, stalled on the road near the scene of the first accident. Mr. Pratt jumped from the machine just before it crashed into the side of the Leonard & Darrows shoe factory. The automobile was wrecked.

PRESIDENT TAFT

WANTS SOME ASSURANCE GIVEN OTHER NATIONS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—President Taft today began the task of convincing members of the house and senate that the Panama canal bill should contain some feature to assure other nations that the United States did not intend to violate the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

Mr. Taft gave a resolution to Representative Shirley drawn to insure the right of any foreign ship owner to have the free tolls provision passed upon by the United States court. Some members think the bill already provides for that but the resolution the president submitted today specifically provides for it. Mr. Shirley said he would submit the resolution to the house and senate conference and learn if they were willing to have it presented to Congress.

In addition to Mr. Shirley the president today talked with Senator Jones of Washington and Senator Chamberlain of Oregon on the subject.

FLEET OF AEROPLANES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—A fleet of seven aeroplanes will be gathered at the army aviation field at College park, Md., this week. The number will include two new machines which have never been accepted by the government, one a weight-carrying aeroplane—a sort of aero carthorse—and the other a swift, small scouting machine, capable of making high speed through small wing surface and big engine and for that reason most risky in operation.

The two army aeroplanes, which were employed in the army maneuvers in Connecticut and New York, will be returned to College park during the week an audit into thorough order, so that the signal corps may be able to resume the training of a number of young aviators. Army officials believe the passage of the pending bill allowing extra pay for the officers detailed to the flying squads will do much to stimulate recruits in this branch of the service. The flying officers have been told that their insurance must be cancelled on account of the extra hazardous nature of their employment and consequently feel under the necessity of having some other support provided for their families in case of accident.

TO PREVENT CAR SHORTAGE

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—In order to forestall threatened freight car shortage such as existed in October, 1907, just before the panic, eastern railroads are urging shippers everywhere to aid them by promptly loading and unloading cars.

According to an official statement issued by the Pennsylvania railroad, the quantity of freight being handled is already so large that the co-operation of the road's patrons is necessary to prevent serious congestion in the fall. The road advises shippers to have their freight ready for loading when the cars are delivered and to aid in the scheme of relief by loading each car as nearly as practicable.

FREIGHT BUSINESS LIGHT

At the New Haven, New Haven & Hartford freight house in Maple street, business at the present time is rather quiet. During the month of August, particularly the last two weeks, there is a noticeable lull in the shipments throughout the country.

The quietness is due to the fact that the employees of many of the big houses are on their vacations, and while the latter are enjoying the breezes at some of the pleasure resorts, the employees of the receiving offices, especially at the railroad houses enjoy a much needed rest after the busy season of the summer months.

At the New Haven office, while all employees are working, and kept moving, the decrease in the number of shipments allows them to "take it easy."

Activities will be resumed by the first of September, when practically all the large commission houses will start to make shipments. The general freight business on the railroads in this vicinity at present is very quiet, while on the other hand, the passenger travel is very heavy.

chine were smashed and that the chauffeur did not take any pains to find out if the driver of the carriage was dead or alive but instead sped away toward Boston. His license number was found later in the road.

Mr. Cosgrove, despite his heavy fall, was soon on his feet again and he rushed to his horse which was lying in the road. The animal suffered several bad scratches. The buggy is a total wreck.

Mr. Cosgrove cannot account for the accident, inasmuch as he had lights on his buggy, and the machine crashed into his carriage on a straight road. He got out of the accident with a bad shoking up and considers himself very fortunate he was not killed in the collision.

An Early Fall Costume

That Appeals to Women

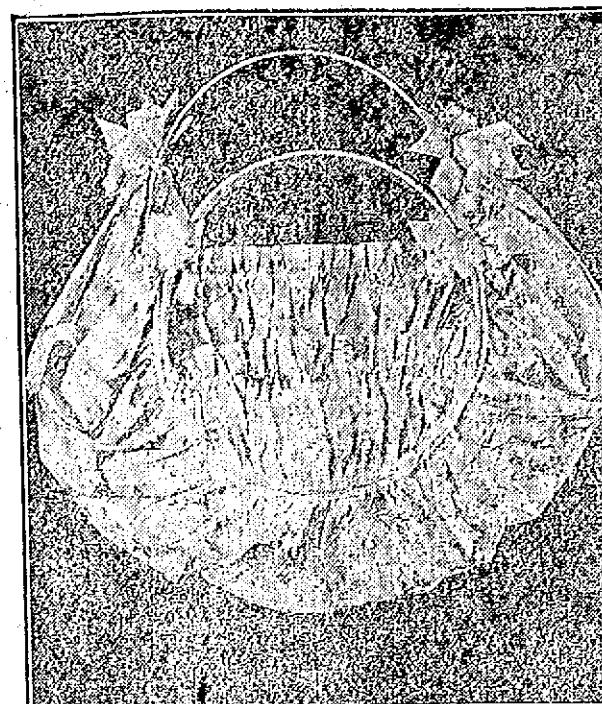

GOWN OF STRIPE DRATINE

Wool ratine is a material that bids fair to be much used in the making of fall and early winter costumes. This fabric is particularly happy when employed for the one piece frock, and such a model is to be seen in the illustration. It is made of striped green and white ratine, with touches of black velvet. The natty little hat is an autumn shape that will be found serviceable for every day wear. It is of hunter's green felt, soft and pliable, as are all the hats of the season, and it is trimmed with a tuft of green and black feathers where the shape turns up abruptly at one side of the front.

For Holding Summer Work

Workbag Has Been Devised

WORKBAG IN POMPADOUR SILK

Pompadour silk or wide ribbon makes this very attractive workbag, which is just the thing in which to keep fancy work during the summer when one is sitting on the porch working. Two embroidery hoops are used as a support for the silk and they also keep the bag sufficiently open to easily accommodate the piece of work.

THE LOWELL SOCIALISTS

Want a Hearing on Eight-Hour Law Violation

The Lowell Socialist club does not want any more hearings on alleged violations of the eight-hour law before Commissioner George H. Brown. The club has received a complaint relative to violations of the law in the operation of our sprinklers and they ask to have the hearing before the whole municipal council rather than before Mr. Brown, claiming that a conference with the commissioners would be "waste of time and energy."

Lowell, Mass., Aug. 16, 1912.
To His Honor, the Mayor, and the Members of the Municipal Council:
In asking for a hearing before the municipal council on the alleged violations of the eight-hour law in the different departments, the council voted to refer the hearing to Commissioners Barrett and Brown. Mr. Barrett gave a hearing to the committee on Tuesday, Aug. 12, and there we learned that Commissioner Brown would grant a hearing Aug. 23. I wish to inform the council that several conferences have been held with said commissioners, extending over a period of seven months, relating to the violation of the operation of the eight-hour law on street sprinklers, and we feel that a conference would be a waste of time and energy, and we desire to be heard before the full council. We would prefer it held in the evening.

Very truly yours,

William E. Sproule,
Sec. pro tem of Lowell Socialist club.

BOW WOW WON

GEORGE LEES' WHIPPET DEFEATS ED GILLIGAN'S "LANE'S TOMMY"

The race between George Lees' "Bow Wow" and James Gilligan's "Lane's Tommy," which was held in Lawrence Saturday afternoon, resulted in a victory for the former. Mr. Lees' whippet captured the race by three yards, despite the fact that "Lane's Tommy" was the favorite in the betting. The race was witnessed by a large crowd of enthusiasts, including many from Lowell. The event was run off at Riding park and the grounds were black with people. After the winner was decided, Mr. Lees was surrounded by a number of dog fanciers, and he received many challenges which he will accept in the near future. Among those that he is anxious to put his pet against, is "Young Fido," and a match between these two whippets is very likely.

WAS FOUND IN PISCATAQUA RIVER AT PORTSMOUTH

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 19.—The body of Frank Reardon, 30 years old, of the 156th company, Coast Artillery corps, stationed at Fort Constitution, Newcastle, was found early yesterday on the flats on Newcastle avenue in the Piscataqua river.

Under the theory of foul play having been committed, the police and army officers yesterday conducted an investigation, as the result of which two soldiers were placed under arrest.

Reardon's body when found bore a number of bruises.

Residents of that section informed the police that about 1 o'clock yesterday morning they heard a man cry for help.

CAMPERS DANCED

The campers at Nabnasset pond held their first annual dance Friday evening in the pavilion at Nabnasset grove. About 150 campers and friends attended.

The hall presented an attractive appearance as it was decorated with pine and birch branches, firs and goldenrod, and flags and Japanese lanterns were hung about. An orchestra of five pieces furnished music and refreshments were served.

The matrons were Mrs. Joseph Mullin, Mrs. Henry Dutton, Mrs. Charles Scribner, Mrs. Alexander Gardner, and Mrs. Hannah Barrows. Henry Dutton was general manager and floor director.

ST. ANTHONY'S CHURCH

At St. Anthony's church yesterday the feast of Our Lady, Help of Christians, was observed.

High mass was celebrated by Rev. Pettenecourt of Fall River, who also delivered the sermon. Rt. Rev. Bishop da Silva occupied a seat within the sanctuary. The altar was brilliantly lighted with candles and the shrine of the Blessed Virgin was adorned with an abundance of flowers.

St. Cecilia's mass was sung by the choir, the solo being sung by Mrs. Margaret Sheehan, Annie Wilkins and Mr. James Haley. The ladies' sodality of the church received communion in a body during which "O Salutaris" was sung by Miss Lulu Ginn.

The services closed with solemn benediction and a procession. The blessed sacrament was carried through the aisles of the church by Bishop da Silva, escorted by the ladies of the sodality, carrying canutes and singing the Litany of the Blessed Virgin, the solo being sung by Rose Danane and Mary Picano.

GEN'L THOMAS H. BARRY

Who Will Command the Eastern Division

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Major General Thomas H. Barry, U. S. A., superintendent of the Military academy at West Point, has been assigned to command the eastern division, with headquarters in New York, succeeding the late Major General Frederick D. Grant. General Barry was born in New York on Oct. 13, 1855, and was graduated from the United States Military academy in 1877 and on June 14 of that year was assigned as second lieutenant in the seventh cavalry, with which he served until Aug. 31, 1880, when he was transferred to the first infantry. In January, 1897, he reached the grade of captain in that regiment and then received the appointment of major and assistant adjutant general of volunteers in June, 1898. In 1899 and 1901, as brigadier general of volunteers, he served with the Chinese relief expedition and in the Philippines. In August, 1901, he was made brigadier general. In 1907 he was selected by the president for the command of the army of Cuban pacification. He was promoted to be major general on April 29, 1909. On Aug. 31, 1910, Major General Barry relieved Colonel Hugh L. Scott as superintendent of the United States Military academy at West Point.

CAMBRIDGE WOMAN
SAYS THAT SHE INTENDED TO COMMIT SUICIDE

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Miss Mary Lathrop, 35 years old, claiming to live on Prescott street, Cambridge, Mass., was yesterday committed to the Buffalo State hospital for the insane. Miss Lathrop was taken into custody at the home of Rev. Albert S. Bacon, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, yesterday.

Early Saturday morning she called at the home of the clergyman, asking for "spiritual sympathy." He sent her away after talking with her for some time, during which he could not get a connected story from her. She returned later, said that she was on the same mission as before, and he summoned Dr. Walter A. Scott.

To the physician the woman said that she had come to Niagara Falls the day before and intended to end her life. She had gone to Goat Island late in the afternoon firmly resolved to jump into the rapids, but darkness had overtaken her before she could summon up sufficient courage. She disclosed to see a clergymen before carrying her purpose into effect.

She spent the greater part of the night under the trees on the island, but squirrels annoyed her and she wandered about until she found her way to one of the sheltered houses, where she slept until daylight, when she returned to the mainland.

Dr. Scott turned the woman over to the police to whom she said she was 35 years old that she has two sisters, Anna Lathrop, living at Melrose Highlands, Mass., and Emma Lathrop of Danvers, Mass.

Miss Lathrop has all the appearance of being a woman of refinement and claimed to be a private tutor.

REPUBLICAN PARTY
TO DODGE SUFFRAGEThe Taft Managers Have Reached Decision

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Contrary to expectations in certain quarters, neither President Taft personally nor any important number of his followers will take up woman suffrage as a counter-argument to the colonel's signatures in that direction. A week or two ago the regular republican gubernatorial nominee in Ohio expressed sympathy with the woman's movement and the impression at once spread that while no national issue would be urged, the Taft sympathizers in states where the question is an issue would endorse female suffrage and so gain female good-will for the national ticket.

Gov. Wilson's expressions on the subject have no effect on the Taft managers. The governor was most friendly in what he said of the feminist movement, and Mrs. Harriman afterward expressed the opinion that the governor, who is now studying the question, might come out for it openly after the elections. But it appears that the national republican campaign will avoid the issue altogether if possible.

The feeling here is that in years past states have remained republican or democratic regardless of woman suffrage, and that the granting of the suffrage in particular states did not change the political complexion in those states one whit. As the men had voted before them so the women voted afterward. It is thought that will be the way now. If suffrage states the vote will be multiplied by two, and the ratio between the Taftites, Bull Moose and democrats will not be shifted by the addition of the women's vote.

In some states like California it is thought that in the large cities, where there is an independent vote, Col. Roosevelt will undoubtedly gain strength by his declarations.

But already that state was conceded to the colonel, so it does not make much difference. It will probably be a long time before the democracy takes up the suffrage. In the southern states there is positive hostility to the movement, and this hostility is sharpest among women. Men think of the subject there at all merely as an academic discussion of remote interest. The women seem to take it as an attack upon their assured position.

PANAMA CANAL BILL

Discussed by Pres. Taft
and Cabinet

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Over the White house coffee cups, President Taft and his cabinet yesterday discussed the Panama canal bill and the question of a possible presidential veto of the measure. Every member of Mr. Taft's official family who was in town was present, and the discussion lasted for an hour after luncheon time, but no decision was reached.

The president's inclination, it was said last night, is to approve the bill; but he is anxious to have a provision made for a legal test of the matter of tree tolls for American ships. The cabinet was understood to agree with him that there is basis for believing that the bill with the free tolls clause is not in conformity with the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

She spent the greater part of the night under the trees on the island, but squirrels annoyed her and she wandered about until she found her way to one of the sheltered houses, where she slept until daylight, when she returned to the mainland.

Dr. Scott turned the woman over to the police to whom she said she was 35 years old that she has two sisters, Anna Lathrop, living at Melrose Highlands, Mass., and Emma Lathrop of Danvers, Mass.

JOHN F. CUMMINGS OF PROVIDENCE A SUICIDE

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 19.—John F. Cummings, 20 years old, ended his life at the Central hotel yesterday by taking cyanide of potassium. He took a room at 11 o'clock Saturday night, staying as far from Fall River. He was seen at 10 o'clock yesterday and an hour later groaning was heard in his room, which led to the door being forced. Cummings was on the bed, at his side was an empty bottle, and on the bureau a note addressed "Sister," in which he had written that he was ill and discouraged. An ambulance call was sent but he died before the doctor could arrive.

Cummings was of the firm of John F. Cummings & Co., 226 Eddy street, manufacturers of steel stamps, and resided at 8 Hopkins street, this city. He leaves a brother, George M. Cummings, of Fall River, and a sister, whose address is unknown.

Medical Examiner Longfellow said that Cummings had been suffering from tuberculosis.

Greek Woman Frightened by Italian Attack
Democrats Are to Make Request

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—Racial trouble between Greek and Italian families living in the tenement house at 25 Hanover avenue, North End, came near resulting seriously last night when four Italians attempted to force their way into the tenement of a Greek family, so badly frightening a woman that she jumped into a yard from a window.

For several minutes there was intense excitement, with the usual accompaniment of shrieks for the police. This was kept up until the clang of the patrol wagon of the Hanover street station was heard bearing to the scene. Sergt. O'Donnell and half a dozen officers.

By the time the officers arrived all was quiet, however. It was some time before even such a keen investigator as Sergt. O'Donnell could get to the bottom of the trouble. The officers at last found, however, all the trouble centered about the arrest on Saturday night of Antonio Marcelli, an Italian lodger. He was locked up on a charge of drunkenness and it is said the officers' attention was attracted to him by Frank Sangers and his wife, Mary, who occupy the street floor tenement. The Sangers are natives of Greece.

About 10' last night, it is alleged, four of his friends made an attack on the tenement. One of the men, it is claimed, insisted the door be opened or he would shoot. Then the windows were broken and this was followed by the crashing in of one of the doors.

Mrs. Sangers, fearing she would be killed, ran to a rear window and jumped out into the yard. She was not injured.

Antonio Vincenzo was arrested on a charge of making threats. He probably will be charged in court with wilfully damaging property.

The letter from Gov. Wilson to Mr. McAdoo is as follows:

"Dear Mr. McAdoo: To bring about

"the election of a president through a campaign financed by popular subscriptions would be a distinct and gratifying triumph."

In his letter Mr. McAdoo expressed the idea that the popular subscription movement was directly in the line of freeing presidential campaigns "from the suspicion of sinister influences," and declared that the democratic party favored the "financing of presidential campaign by the people themselves."

He urged the need of convenient and expedient agencies for the receipts of subscriptions, and asked the banks and trust companies to perform "the same patriotic service" that the newspapers already had undertaken."

"Will you agree to receive and transmit subscriptions to the democratic national committee, the republican national and progressive national com-

"Speaking for the democratic national committee, I would ask you to

GIRL RESCUED

SHE WAS SAVED FROM DROWN- ING BY MISS FISHER

NORTH SCITUATE, Aug. 12.—Miss Isabelle French of Newburyport, 18 years old and a graduate of this year's class of the Bridgewater Normal school, was saved from drowning yesterday afternoon through the efforts of Miss Emily Fisher of Norwood, also 18, aided by Miss Fisher's father and brother, Curtis, and A. Tower and Bernard Callamore, the latter of East Bridgewater.

Miss French was unconscious when taken from the water and Miss Fisher was exhausted. Both required the attention of a physician.

It was shortly before 4 o'clock, about high tide, that Miss French went batting in the surf, which was running high and strong, with a powerful undertow. She was in the vicinity of Well Rock, Minot, when a huge wave came in and the undertow took her out fully 25 feet beyond the danger line.

The other bathers quickly realized her position. Miss French screamed once before she disappeared in the seas and Miss Emily Fisher, who was poised on Well Rock for a dive, struck out boldly to her aid.

She reached the struggling girl and tried to bring her in, while Mr. Fisher managed to get two large ears to them and finally to reach them himself.

A surfboat was launched and manned by Curtis Fisher and A. Tower, and with the aid of Bernard Callamore, a chamberlain, the girls were brought to the beach.

When the fire apparatus arrived the building was a mass of flames and the roofs of three buildings nearby were afire. After attempting to extinguish the blaze at the farm, the firemen turned their efforts entirely toward protecting the surrounding territory.

The barn contained a number of carriages, farming implements and several tons of hay, which was recently harvested. Three horses dashed from the burning building and were later found roaming in distant parts of the city.

The loss is estimated at $5000.

Because of Powers calling the name of a clump, it was supposed for a time that he was in the ruins. After the fireman Robert Powers and others searched the debris, but no trace of a body was found.

The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

Lowell and Lynn Divide in Double Bill

Champs Take First, 9-3; Terriers Second, 3-2

MILLER, LOWELL'S FAST SECOND BASEMAN, CAUGHT BY SUN PHOTOGRAPHER WHILE STEALING THIRD

Before one of the largest crowds of the season, Lowell and Lynn split even in a double header at Spalding park, the locals taking the first game by the score of 9 to 3, and the visitors capturing the second by the tune of 3 to 2. The first game was a comedy, while the second was a ball game. The Lynn team was badly crippled owing to the fact that McGovern, Murch and Daugherty three of the stars of the team are on the sick list, and their places were taken by sons. Behind the bat, a kid who answered to the name of Barter donned a breast protector, mask and glove and his exhibition was fine (1). The youngster cannot be blamed entirely for the loss of the game, for he played good in flashes, and the principal reason for Barter going bad was the fact that Hap Ward got his anger. The other members of the team also played rather loosely, while Lowell, too, had a few slips.

Zeiser, who twirled for the locals, was in good trim and his work was one of the features of the game. Dee played a great game at short and Wallace in left for the visitors, gave one of the best exhibitions of fielding ever seen in Lowell.

The second game was some different from the first, and it was a game that Lowell should have won. Two of Lynn's runs resulted from errors by Miller and Dee, the slips by the former being of the antiquated egg variety, but after falling on two weak ones he pulled one out of the air that would make Ty Cobb look like "Barter Jeff," so what's the diff? "Big Jeff" was on the mound for Lowell and he pitched a good game. Red Waller did duty for the visitors and his work was of the apple-pie order. Again the fielding of Wallace in left stood out conspicuously, his catch of De Groff's liner in the sixth being one of the most sensational of the year. The batting of Waller and Halstein featured. The game:

First Inning

Wallace began by striking out. Strands flied to Miller who accompanied a pretty running catch. O'reilly was thrown out. Roultes to McGannell.

Clemens went out. Strands to Wilson. Magee drew a ticket to first. De Groff fanned. Then McGannell got two bases of the long fly which McDonald dropped, scoring Magee who had stolen second. Miller walked and Roultes got a scratch hit, hitting Strands. But Dee only flied out to Cooney.

Score: Lowell 1, Lynn 0.

Second Inning

Lynn flied out to Boutles. Cooney was put down. Miller to McGannell. McDonald got to first on Roultes' error, and Wilson flied out to Clemens, who made a sensational catch.

Lindgren flied out to Cooney and Zeiser did the same to O'reilly. Clemens went down. Barter to Wilson.

Score: Lowell 1, Lynn 0.

Third Inning

Barter flied out to Wolfgang who threw high to first, and he was safe. Ward walked. Wallace flied out to Clemens and when Barter left second, Clemens threw to Dee for a double play. Roultes singled to center. Outcut hit to Dee, forcing Strands out at second.

Score: Lowell 1, Lynn 0.

Fourth Inning

Strands hit a fly ball to Dee. Outcut hit to Roultes who threw badly to first and O'reilly went to second and then went to third on a passed ball. Logan walked. Cooney swung three times without connecting, and McDonald started to center field, scoring O'reilly. Wilson hit to center field for one bag, scoring Logan. McDonald went to third and Wilson stole second but Barter struck out.

The following changes were made in the Lynn team in this inning: Barter and Wilson exchanged places, the former going to first base and the latter behind the bat. Clemens drew a pass and stole second. Magee singled. Clemens went to third and Magee stole second. Then on Wilson's poor throw to second to get Magee, Clemens scored and Magee went to third. De Groff singled to left field, scoring Magee and was then thrown out in attempting to steal second. Wilson to Cooney. McGannell singled and stole second. Miller and Roultes flied out to Wallace and Ward.

Score: Lowell 1, Lynn 0.

Fifth Inning

All the putouts in this half of the inning were made on fly balls. Ward flied out to Clemens and Wallace walked. Strands and O'reilly flied out to Magee and Dee.

De Groff hit a two-base hit to left field. Lavigne went out. Strands to Barter. Zeiser went out on a fly ball to O'reilly. Dee went to third. Clemens singled, scoring Dee and stole second. Magee hit to Cooney who threw and got Clemens at third.

Score: Lowell 1, Lynn 2.

Sixth Inning

Wolfgang replaced Roultes on third. Logan fanned. Cooney went out. Dee to McGannell to Zeiser.

De Groff got a two-base hit to right field and McGannell got a scratch single, sending De Groff to third. Miller flied to Strands and McGannell stole second. Wolfgang hit through Cooney and scored De Groff and McGannell. Dee singled to center field. Lavigne flied out to Wallace, who made a wonderful one hand catch against the left field fence. On Wallace's poor throw to second, Wolfgang went to third. Dee was caught asleep on first and was put out. Ward to Barter.

Score: Lowell 2, Lynn 2.

Seventh Inning

Wilson singled through Zeiser. Barter hit to Dee who threw to Miller, getting Wilson, and Miller threw to McGannell for a double play, getting Barter. Ward went out, Miller to McGannell.

Zelzer went out. Cooney to Barter. Clemens flied out to O'reilly and Magee flied out to Wallace.

Score: Lowell 2, Lynn 2.

Eighth Inning

Wallace hit to Dee, who fumbled and he reached first. Strands then singled over second and O'reilly got on Miller's fumble. The bases were thus filled. Logan flied out to Clemens and Wallace scored on the put out. Cooney singled to center field again filling the bases. McDonald hit a foul fly to Lavigne and Wilson struck out. One run.

De Groff went out. Logan to Barter. McGannell singled to over second. Miller flied out to Wallace and Wolfgang was thrown out. Cooney to Barter.

Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 3.

Ninth Inning

Barter hit to Wolfgang who threw high to first, and he was safe. Ward walked. Wallace flied out to Clemens and when Barter left second, Clemens threw to Dee for a double play. Roultes singled to center. Outcut hit to Dee, forcing Strands out at second.

Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 3.

Tenth Inning

Wallace flied out to Cooney and Zeiser did the same to O'reilly. Clemens went down. Barter to Wilson.

Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 3.

MAN JUMPED FROM WINDOW AND WAS FATALLY INJURED

He Was a Sufferer From Epilepsy
—Maid Was Witness of the Tragedy

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—In the presence of a terror-stricken maid, Daniel Shields Gunning, a wealthy resident of Saratoga Springs, and a nephew of Col. G. P. Lawton of New York city, committed suicide by jumping from the fourth-story window of his suite at the Hotel Touraine into Tamworth street yesterday afternoon at 12:45 o'clock. The body was removed to the City hospital morgue and later will be sent to Albany for burial.

The young man has been subject to epileptic fits since childhood. About midnight Saturday he was seized with an attack and early yesterday morning went from one fit into another, which led his cousin and valet to send for Dr. Grant. After the doctor left Gunning seemed much better and his cousin and valet left him in bed about 11:20 while they went down to breakfast. On their way up to his rooms they and other occupants of the hotel heard the maid shout:

"My God, a young man has gone out of the window of room 424." The cousin and valet burst into the room, but were too late. Policemen from the LaGrange street station a few steps away were soon on hand and a crowd was drawn to the scene. Hotel porters helped by the police, put the body of the young man in station 4's ambulance. Doctors at the City hospital said life was extinct and the body was removed to the morgue.

Experience of Maid
The maid, according to the young man's relatives and the hotel officials, was arranging room 424, the adjoining room to 426, where Gunning was fast asleep, when his cousin and valet went down stairs to breakfast. Suddenly, she says, he appeared before her in his night clothes and his eyes

BLACK HAND LETTER DEMANDS MONEY

Rossi Told to Leave $300 Under Tree

MANSFIELD, Aug. 19.—It became known yesterday that Antonio Rossi of 724 North Main street received a "black hand" letter a few days ago.

The letter demanded $300. It instructed Rossi to place the money in a cigar box and to deposit the same under a designated apple tree near the Mansfield standpipe. Rossi was ordered to leave the money before 3 a. m. yesterday. The threat contained in the note was that if Rossi failed to carry out the instructions he and his family would be killed. Further warning was: "Don't tell the police; if you do, there will be something doing."

The letter was wholly in Italian. It went on to say that the money desired would be returned to Rossi by Labor day. It declared that the writer was acting upon advice of a society which had named Rossi as one to approach. "We are soon going to do a millionaire and you will then be returned that which we now borrow," the letter said.

The letter was postmarked Mansfield.

Rossi was considerably disturbed. If he had been a single man he would probably have kept still about the letter, but having a family and being a hard working man, he thought the matter over and decided he should have police protection. He therefore called upon Chief Kennedy. The chief began a systematic investigation immediately and he and his assistants are continuing in their effort to trace the letter. Chief Kennedy had the Rossi house and the "apple tree" and in fact the entire section under surveillance all last night but nobody put in an appearance. It is thought that the sender of the letter may have observed Rossi when he noticed Chief Kennedy and was therefore afraid of being caught.

"INVENTION OF THE EVIL ONE"

It has been said that backache is an invention of the evil one to try thy souls.

Not so. Backache is a symptom of some serious trouble which sooner or later declares itself, either kidney trouble or some female derangement.

Lydia E. Plimham's Vegetable Compound may be relied upon to go to the root of the trouble and quickly relieve this most distressing symptom.

Nearly 40 years of unparalleled success proves its value in conquering female ills.

JUSTICE JOHN W. GOFF

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Justice John W. Goff has been designated by Governor Dix to preside at a special term of the supreme court to be convened on Sept. 3 for the trial of the murderers of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler who was killed for "squeal-

ing." Justice Goff studied the ways of criminals as an assistant district attorney. As special counsel he harried the "guerrillas" who vitiated elections by violence and fraud. The Lexow legislative committee inquiry, which he conducted was the heaviest blow

DEEPER WATERWAY ASSN.
The Boston to Beaufort, N. C., inland waterway will be the chief topic of discussion at the convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterway Association, which will be held at the Hotel Griswold, New London, Sept. 4, 5 and 6.

It is expected that 250 delegates, of which over 200 will be from Massachusetts, will be present. So many mayors of seaport cities have already signified their intention of being present, that it is probable that a special mayor's session will be arranged. A number of boards of trade of Massachusetts cities, notably those of Beverly, Quincy and Springfield have taken the matter up officially, and from these places large delegations will be sent. Other boards of trade are expected to take official action within the next few days.

An elaborate program has been arranged, which includes, besides the business of the convention, eight seeing tours, public sports, and aquatic carnival, and a reception and dance on the evening of Sept. 6. It is expected that President Taft will arrive in the Mayflower during the proceeding and deliver an address.

The Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange plans a two days' trip to take in the last two days of the convention.

Special sleepers will leave at midnight Sept. 4 and remain side-tracked at New London till late the following morning. Return will be made Friday night arriving in Boston at 11 p. m.

LOCAL CARPENTERS HAVE SECURED EMPLOYMENT IN LYNN

The strike of cabinet makers in this city is given as a cause of the departure of nine local carpenters to Lynn.

Arthur W. Clark, business agent of the Lynn Carpenters' union, was in Lowell yesterday and called on Michael A. Lee. Mr. Clark informed Mr. Lee of the dearth of carpenters in Lynn and of the great demand for that kind of labor there.

The Lowell mill carpenters are on strike since the 5th of July, and though most of them have been employed elsewhere, there were still a few out of work, and after some difficulty Mr. Lee succeeded in securing the desired number for the Lynn men.

Mr. Clark said that cabinet makers, bench makers and in fact all kinds of inside carpenters are wanted in Lynn as well as Boston and Worcester. The conditions are booming and owing to the fact that the outside men are so busy the demands on the interior workers are great. The pay in Lynn is much higher than in Lowell and the hours are shorter. The average pay there, according to Mr. Clark is 10 cents per hour, while in Lowell 50 cents is said to be the maximum. In Lynn the men work 50 hours a week, while in Lowell 55 hours constitute a week's work.

In leaving Mr. Clark informed Mr. Lee that if he secured any more men to send them along.

WOMAN'S TERROR PROVED TO BE A THIEF'S SAFETY

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—While Mrs. Klem, mute from terror, looked on a masked burglar robbed the summer home of Walter E. Klem, the Philadelphia banker, at 17 South Providence avenue, in the fashionable Chelsea section of Atlantic City, obtaining jewelry valued at more than $12,000.

Awakened by no sound made by the thief, but rather by a premonition of danger, Mrs. Klem saw the burglar rifling her jewel case. By her side was her husband asleep. Fearing that if she woke him up or made an outcry the burglar might murder them both, Mrs. Klem pretended to be asleep, but through half-closed eyelids watched the masked man make the biggest haul in a series of cottage robberies which have terrorized the resort all summer.

Mrs. Klem had ample opportunity to see the burglar and as soon as he left the house she awakened her husband, who jumped for the telephone to notify the police. The burglar had cut the wires.

INJURIES FATAL

TIMOTHY SHEEDY PASSED AWAY AT ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL

Timothy Sheedy, aged 22 years, died at St. John's hospital yesterday as a result of a fracture of the skull which he sustained when he fell at the Lowell Bleachery, where he was employed as night watchman.

Just how the accident occurred is not known for Sheedy was alone in his part of the mill when it took place, but it is presumed he fell from the fourth story. He was found in an unconscious condition and removed to the hospital Saturday night, but despite the efforts of the attending physician, he did not regain his senses and passed away at 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

Decedent, who made his home with his brother John, 45 Madison street, is survived by a mother, Mrs. Richard Sheedy in Ireland, and six brothers, Patrick and Dennis of Ireland, Daniel of California, and John, James and Thomas of this city. He was a member of Division 11, A. O. H. His body was removed to the home of his brother John this morning by Undertaker McDermott.

GULLIVER AND THE LILLIPUTIANS

1500 MEN ARE ENTERED IN THE WAKEFIELD TOURNAMENT

New England Military Association Conducting Event That Interests New England

WAKEFIELD, Aug. 19.—The Bay State rifle range, although running with water as a result of heavy rains yesterday, was the mecca of the military marksmen of New England, more than 1000 of whom are entered in the eighth annual tournament of the New England Military Rifle association which will be held this week.

This year's shoot surpasses in the number of entries and in the number of contests and prizes any rifle shoot in this country, aside from the national contests which have been held at Camp Perry, O., and at Sea Girt, N. J.

The fact that there is no national shoot at Camp Perry this year has served to make the New England shoot greater. Many new matches were added to the program for next week as a result, and corresponding prizes were donated. The entry list which yesterday ran well over 1000 max, some of the officials of the meet predict, closely approaches the 1500 mark, as many post entries are expected.

Principally among the new matches, and among the matches of the week, in fact is the Hayden All-American match for a trophy, "The First American Marksmanship," valued at $1000 and $300 in cash offered by Col. Charles Hayden of Boston. This match is open to teams of eight men each from any part of North or South America. The entries to date are from all the New England states, except Vermont, New York, New Jersey and the United States navy and United States Marine corps. This match will be shot on Wednesday.

Another important team match is the shoot for the New England inter-state trophy on Friday and Saturday. Every New England state except Vermont will be represented in this match for the first time in five years. Vermont has never sent a team to Wakefield, Massachusetts has won this trophy for the past eight years.

On Wednesday, the big day of the tournament, there will also be shot the General Banquet match for the regental championship of New England.

All the Massachusetts regiments and many from the other New England states have entered. The Fifth Massachusetts regiment is the present holder of the title.

Another championship match is the First Corps Cadets' competition on Thursday, which carries with it the company title for New England. Company H, First New Hampshire, won last year.

The new matches include an innovation in the form of a "surprise shot," which is to be tried for the first time in this country. In this match the marksmen stand "ready" and shoots 10 times at targets which appear for only three seconds at a time. Governor Robert P. Bass of New Hampshire has created a new match for marksmen who have never won a prize in national or interstate competition.

MME. SEMBRICH

WAS INJURED BUT SHE SAVED HER DOG

PARIS, Aug. 19.—All Paris is talking of the bravery of Mme. Marcelle Sembrich, the prima donna, who risked her life and received a broken wrist yesterday in rescuing her pet dachshund from beneath the wheels of a trolley car at Oncley, near here.

Mme. Sembrich had driven from her home to several of the Oncley shops, and while waiting in front of one of them for the clerk to come out, allowed the dog to step on the street.

The animal ran around the carriage and across the tracks, directly in front of the approaching car. It made a frantic effort to get out of the way, but the fender caught him and he was dragged, yelping with fear, underneath the wheels.

With a scream, the singer pulled open the carriage door and leaped to the rescue of her pet. She ran, stooping slightly, and snatched up the dog just as it seemed as though it were to be ground to pieces. In her haste, just as she released the animal from the imprisoning fender, Mme. Sembrich slipped and fell, snapping one of her wrist bones.

The motorman brought the car to a standstill before it further endangered the dachshund or its mistress.

Bystanders assisted the singer, who was in great pain from the accident, to her carriage. She was driven away, holding the frightened dog in one arm and with her injured hand, which had been bandaged by a physician, lying outstretched along the cushion.

NEW CLOTHING COMPANY

INVENT BUSINESS MAN

WINDSOR, Conn., Aug. 19.—The man described as the "gray-haired old gentleman," whose automobile turned turtle on the Milford road during a joy ride last Thursday morning, causing the death of Miss Ann Carelli of New Haven, was identified last night as the Hon. Walter S. Hastings, ex-assemblyman and grain dealer.

The revelation has created a sensation in Windsor. Mr. Hastings almost concealed his connection with the affair, but it leaked out through persons who had seen him during the ride after a police investigation.

BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—A national baseball championship will be settled in this city this week when nine cities will compete in the fifth annual baseball tournament of the Union Printers' National Baseball League for the Gary Hermann cup.

It developed that Hastings with his chauffeur, Howard C. Hulsey, picked up Miss Carelli, with her sister, Mrs. Hastings, at Savin Rock, New Haven's Coney Island, and invited them for a ride.

In a wild dash along the Milford road occurred the accident which resulted in Miss Carelli's death. The others in the party escaped with a few scratches and bruises.

The Carelli girls are daughters of Dr. G. F. Carelli of New Haven. Mr. Hastings, who is married, refused to discuss the case tonight. He did not attend the funeral of Miss Carelli at New Haven today.

SCHEPPS IS SILENT ON ROSENTHAL CASE

Much Wanted Man Reached New York Today—Clash Between Dist. Attorney and Police

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—News that substantially corroborated Jack Rose's story, Sam Schepps, the long sought witness in the Rosenthal murder case would be here this morning and that while on the train he was given an examination by District Attorney Whitman, who joined Schepps and his guard at Albany to incite the hope that confession of "Bald Jack" Rose, charging Police Lieutenant Becker with instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

LIEUT. BECKER CHEERFUL WHEN HE APPEARED IN COURT TODAY

For two hours Schepps and District Attorney Whitman were in conference in a Pittman statement on a New York Central train speeding south from Albany and after the train reached New York Whitman said simply:

"Schepps has done all that we requested of him. He has corroborated the most important parts of Jack Rose's confession. You must not ask me for details."

Owing interests of the district attorney and the police were again in evidence when Schepps arrived. Two detectives from headquarters, saying that they were acting on orders, attempted to see Schepps before he left the train, but Whitman was quick to announce that his office was in command and the detectives did not get their man. Instead he was taken to the West Side police court by Detective Thomas of the district attorney's staff and there held a prisoner on a technical charge of vagrancy as a material witness along with Rose, Yelton and Webster.

The district attorney has obtained information that a "collector" for one man high in police circles has accumulated no less than $75,000 as his commission on collections in the last seven months. Speaking of the investigation into police graft a member of the district attorney's staff said:

"Every man in the ring is known and will be indicted at the special session of the grand jury."

There are reports that if indictments are brought against one police inspector he will turn state's evidence. The indictments for the police graft are not likely to be drawn until after the Rosenthal indictments are found.

The grand jury will meet tomorrow when it is expected Sam Schepps will tell his story.

The train bearing Schepps reached Albany at 4:40 this morning. Dist. Atty. Whitman in the meantime was waiting at an Albany hotel. Schepps was taken from the train. Then Whitman suddenly decided to leave for New York at once and a clash was made for the station to get the 6:50 train.

Notwithstanding the early hour a curious crowd followed Schepps through the station and passengers from New York clapped their cameras shutters as he passed. He ate a hearty breakfast on the train and today evinced none of the fear of the "system's" vengeance that has been attributed to him heretofore. He was dressed modestly in a dark gray suit, wore eyeglasses and looked like a quiet little traveling salesman.

There was a clash between the district attorney and detectives from police headquarters as soon as the train pulled in to New York at 10:30. Detective Flaggerty, who said he had been sent up by Deputy Commissioner Dougherty, tried to take charge of the prisoner, but Mr. Whitman would have none of it and insisted that the district attorney's office alone should have charge.

A curious crowd followed Schepps through the station, but Sam only smiled and said that he was glad to get back to New York. When asked if he had told all he knew concerning the Rosenthal case to the district attorney, he grinned and replied: "We did not discuss anything like that; we just had a nice little chat."

It is known, however, that Schepps

EXTENSIVE BUYING

OF STEEL ENLIVENED FINAL HOUR OF THE MARKET

There Was Improvement In Other Stocks—Large Offerings, However, Soon Checked the Rise

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The only feature of interest at the opening of today's stock market was the strength of the Canadian group. Canadian Pacific was up 1 and Minneapolis, St. Paul and Salt Ste Marie 1 1/2. Otherwise changes were mainly downward with indication of further liquidation in the better known issues.

Prices shaded at the opening but soon became firmer under the lead of Can. Pacific which rose three points with smaller gains in a few specialties while American Tobacco fell over two points.

Further unexplained selling of Reading and Lehigh Valley, which later spread moderately to other stocks turned the course of today's market from new irregularity to heaviness. Few of the leaders yielded more than fractionally but the dullness that followed declines in coalers indicated a degree of uncertainty. Canadian Pacific, which was heavy in the final days of the preceding week rose three points with a two point advance in Minneapolis, St. Paul & St. Marie.

On better support coal stocks regained all their forenoon loss, while other active stocks also made full recovery. A ten point drop in General Chemical was the feature of the special group.

Trading became duller in the latter part of the session with prices showing little change from the midday recovery, except Reading which again eased off.

The market closed irregular.

Extensive buying of steel enlivened the last hour with improvements in other stocks. Large offerings soon checked the rise, however, with general recessions from the top.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The North Chelmsford Boy Scouts have returned from a delightful week spent on the shore of Wachusett lake. The boys had the time of their lives, visiting the observation tower on the mountain top, the balance rock and other interesting points. One of the most exciting features of camp life was the sealing and receiving of heliographic messages with Forest Warden Allen on the mountain two and a half miles away. The instructions by the latter were greatly appreciated by the young scouts.

During the week inspection teams and the surrounding kept that much merriment was enjoyed by the boys. Much merriment was caused by expert artists with burnt cork, who worked during the midnight hours, "shining" the faces of their neighbors.

Early Saturday morning tents were struck and a start for home was made at 10 a. m. the boys breaking their journey at Whalom park for a two and a half hour stay. After taking in their power from the very day they set camp. When they left Lowell last Sunday they went directly to Derby, Conn., and after detaining there marched about five miles in order to reach a place known as Orange, where the first night was to be spent. The road was very dusty, but despite the inconveniences the men, who were badly in need of sleep, were all of a happy disposition. When the latter place was reached they pitched camp and had a good night's sleep. The next morning they were awakened early and they were mustered for pay by Lieut. Bascom of the 14th Infantry, U. S. A. The companies were inspected for ball ammunition, and later in the day a novel was taken across the fields and a skirmish drill was in order. In the afternoon the Sixth regiment had a war problem of its own, and this proved very interesting as well as instructive for all concerned.

Tuesday the companies broke camp early in the morning after partaking of a good breakfast and marched several miles, after which they set camp for the night. The next day they returned to Derby and then to Shelton. From there they went to the Nichols farm road, where a part of the regiment ran into some 15 "Blues" who would have been encamped had there been no skirmish around. The companies did outpost duty for the night and at 2:30 a. m. they received orders to send their wagons to the rear, which they did about two miles and a half. About 3 o'clock they got new orders to fall in and they captured a nearby bridge.

TWO REPORTS PRESENTED BY THE MOSS COMMITTEE

Relative to the Florida Everglades
Charges—Majority Report Does
Not Criticise Sec'y Wilson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The Moss committee today presented to the house two reports of its investigation of the Florida Everglades charges and the subsequent inquiry into the drainage division of the department of agriculture. The reports take up the charge that a certain circular unfavorable to sale of Everglades lands was suppressed in the department of agriculture through influence of real estate operators; the question of relations between Assistant Secretary Hays of the department and J. O. Wright, a former government employee in a land project at Lake Mattamuskeet, N. C., and the dismissal of C. G. Elliott and A. D. Morehouse from the drainage division of the department on technical charges involving the transfer of government funds from one account to another.

Secretary Wilson escaped personal arraignment at the hands of the majority in the findings in the Everglades charges. The department's policy toward the Everglades was characterized as vacillating, "most unfortunate" and having subjected the department to much suspicion and criticism. The minority report signed by Representative Sloan of Nebraska who said his views were approved by Representatives Illinois and Madden, held that

Friends Greeted Mr. and
Mrs. James St. Hilaire
at Their Home

MR. JAMES ST. HILAIRE

Mr. and Mrs. James St. Hilaire, 66 Mt. Hope street, the occasion being the 26th anniversary of their marriage. The event was largely attended and proved very pleasant. Mr. and Mrs. St. Hilaire were to celebrate last year on the date of their silver wedding, but on account of sickness in the family the affair was postponed till this year and was a most enjoyable event.

There were many out-of-town people at the festivities and in the afternoon dainty repast was served. In the evening the couple were showered with congratulations at the reception and they were also the recipients of many silver pieces. There was music and a very pleasant evening was spent.

James St. Hilaire was born Jan. 15, 1856, in Quebec. At the age of 16, after completing his apprenticeship as plasterer and bricklayer he went to Manchester, N. H., where he lived for one year, removing then to Fitchburg, where on Aug. 18, 1886, he was married to Miss Josephine Girard, daughter of the late Francis Xavier Girard. The marriage ceremony was performed at St. Bernard's church, by the Rev. D. E. Feenan, at that time pastor of the parish, and now bishop of Fall River diocese.

In 1887 the couple removed to this city and have resided here since. Eight children were born to them, six of whom are living. There are Rose, Arthur of the pines room of The Sun, Edgar, Oscar, Albin and Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. St. Hilaire count a host of friends in this city. Mr. St. Hilaire worked 21 years for the same contractor, the late Capt. M. D. Prescott, and he is now in the employ of Contractors, D. H. Walker. He is a member of many fraternal organizations, being chief ranger of Court St. Louis, F. A., past president of the Plasterers union, having held the position of financial secretary of this organization for 15 consecutive years.

A very pretty reunion of relatives and friends took place Saturday afternoon and evening at the home of Asst. Secy. Hays. The minority report, on the other hand, acquitted the latter of the charges that he "despised all restraint and attempted to capitalize his official position and draw quick dividends from official opportunity."

The Everglades investigation arose through the charges that certain reports prepared by government engineers had been withheld from publication, with the inference that such action was in the interest of land dealers, C. G. Elliott, chief of drainage, and Assistant Engineer Morehouse, who were brought into the controversy, were found by the committee to have made an arrangement in connection with North Carolina swamp lands that was in violation of the law, but inasmuch as there was no profit intended in it the committee declared that the man had been too severely disciplined by agricultural department officials.

Assistant Secretary Hays' connection with the matter arose through a private arrangement he made with J. O. Wright, former drainage engineer, for the handling of some drained land in North Carolina which did not belong to the government.

Majority Report. The majority report cited Wright's admissions of his familiarity with real estate promoters and of accepting development company stock and fees while engaged officially in making surveys to reclaim land. It declared that while thus engaged as a paid salesman and an interested purchaser he appeared before the North Carolina legislature as an official of the department of agriculture ostensibly to advise in the framing of drainage legislation.

He later boasted, the report said, of securing the passage of a special statute there under which he was enabled to close a deal. His transgressions were denounced by the majority as redundant to a high sense of honor and integrity, which would justify dismissal if he were still in the government service. The report added that his transactions were not brought to the knowledge of his superiors of the drainage division.

The majority report cited testimony regarding frequent conference of Assistant Secretary Hays and Engineer Wright, who has since become state drainage engineer of Florida, concerning the purchase and sale at a profit of the bed of Lake Mattamuskeet, N. C.

Mr. Wright, the majority declared, did not seem to realize the impropriety of his own conduct. In view of his confidential relations with Mr. Hays the majority "found it difficult to escape the conviction that Mr. Hays was in full possession of the facts relative to Wright's deals and transactions when they were being negotiated," and that Hays should have condemned them rather than to have encouraged them.

There was no evidence, however, that Mr. Hays actually received any money.

Mr. Hays' office, said the majority, should be free from all connection with "speculative enterprises and get-rich-quick" schemes.

"It is useless," the majority added,

"to frame regulations for the government of employees, many of whom work for low salaries, and permit those in high positions to despite all restraint. This is particularly true when the offense is to capitalize official position and collect dividends from official opportunity.

Your committee has no authority to deal further with this matter. It calls the particular attention of Secretary Wilson to the record."

The Conclusions.

The committee conclusions are:

The department majority report called the department vacillating and lacking competition of the vast investigation of millions of dollars in undertaking the reclamation of the Everglades.

Said it constantly subordinated the inquiry to other work in which members of congress were particularly interested and finally abandoned it after an expenditure of $11,97 without definite results. Its accounting system deficient and its discipline lacking. The minority upheld the department.

Secretary Wilson—Falsely credited with membership of the circular letter to which real estate promoters first objected because of its caustic nature.

Promptly suppressed it and refused publication of revised bulletin excerpts as a report of the Everglades. Minority reported that he did not abuse his legal discretion.

Assistant Secretary Hays—Arraigned

by majority. Minority called the criticism of Hays unfair and unwarranted;

that his interest in the possible sale of North Carolina lake bed to Leigh Hunt and others was due to his well known public interest in the development of country country life.

Drainage Engineer Wright—Majority

said he accepted fees and commissions whenever offered. Minority reported that no evidence was established that any financial statement indicating great gains from the Mattamuskeet, N.

C. project were exhibited by Wright to Hays. Financial statement reaching committee was "faulty and ridiculous and would have discredited the scheme

at once."

Dr. C. G. Elliott, chief of drainage, and Assistant Drainage Engineer Morehouse—Majority report stated that they admitted making an arrangement which the majority regarded as in violation of the law and of sound public policy but that there was no profit intended in it and the department had disciplined them too severely. The minority agreed as to the over-disci-

plining but added that the committee had no oversight of the department's discipline and that if such oversight were a fixed institution the secretaries of agriculture and their subordinates would become abject slaves to "red tape."

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

ROOSEVELT'S FIRST CAMPAIGN GUNS

Col. Roosevelt's opening addresses, delivered in Rhode Island and this state, show a stremensh that has rarely appeared in any of his other addresses. He assails both the old parties as controlled and directed by bosses and the support of which he says is but a choice of evils.

He touched upon the tariff after the manner of the demagogue. "We stand for a protective tariff," he says, "but we wish to see the benefits of the protective tariff get into the pay envelopes of the wage worker." That is the old and divisive republican cry revived.

"The republican tariff," he says, "is a tariff for privilege in industry. The democratic proposal is a tariff to paralyze all industry."

Col. Roosevelt after a lot of such statements ventures to take this position:

We propose to deal with the tariff, schedule by schedule, in accordance with the reports of a nonpartisan commission of experts who shall make their report, not on the theory of being good to anybody, but with the theory of doing justice primarily to the American wage worker and the American consumer.

He would employ the dilatory tactics of waiting for the reports of a special commission upon each particular schedule. The people of this country already know what that means and have had more than they want of it from the Taft administration. It means that not less than ten years would be required to investigate one-third of the schedules. Taft has vetoed several tariff bills because the tariff board had not got around to report upon the particular schedules involved. The tariff board has been used as an excuse for delay, and for this purpose Col. Roosevelt apparently would use it if he were placed in control of the government. Any schedule that he did not want to touch would be referred to the tariff commission which simply means that it be put on the shelf for a year or two at least and then perhaps until another administration came into power.

What is apparent in Roosevelt's speeches is his lack of honesty and sincerity. He asserts that the men who nominated Taft were a lot of political freebooters who had no regard for the rights or interests of the people.

In his Boston speech Roosevelt amplified his attack on the courts and the constitution and defended the submission of court decisions to the people for approval or rejection. Particularly did he plead for the exercise of popular power to more easily change the constitution and thus overcome the legal decisions of the supreme court. In his discussion of the judiciary he said:

"We desire to accept the view that ten millions of men and women of New York are helpless if five worthy elderly gentlemen who make a fetish of some bygone system of economics happen to think that they ought not to have the social and industrial justice that Massachusetts and Iowa accept as elementary."

This is a mild sample of the Colonel's strictures upon the state and federal courts. His contention throughout is, that the other parties are inherently bad, that the new party has avoided the evils of both and stands alone for simple justice to the masses.

That Roosevelt is an able and ingenious demagogue is apparent from his speeches of Saturday. That he will draw a considerable portion of the unthinking masses is obvious, unless he be followed closely by democratic speakers who are able to expose his hypocrisy, his fallacies and the danger of his political program.

It will not do for the democratic leaders to allow him to go on a general rampage throughout the country without taking active steps to offset his appeals, expose his sophistry, his inconsistency and his false charges. He promises a state of affairs under his new party, should it succeed, that could only result from the millennium; but the question for democrats to consider is, will the voters see through this man's rant and hypocrisy and in spite of his ingenious appeals vote for the democratic party, the only one that can bring to the people the relief so greatly needed?

THE RECKLESS CHAUFFEURS

The numerous automobile fatalities reported are due in large degree to the recklessness of youthful chauffeurs who fail to realize the power of the machines they operate and the danger of collision from fast driving. The young swell on the road with a lady by his side is out for speed, for a joy ride, if you will, and he cares little for the rules of the road or the rights and safety of others. Then the professional roadster thinks that the road is exclusively his; that all other vehicles should get into the ditch while he goes by. If they do not scamper to the side they must take the risk of collision, and it is thus that many of the collisions occur. Speed madness and outright recklessness are the chief elements of danger on the highways. But for these the auto owners who go out for a drive at moderate speed would get a great deal more enjoyment out of their machines.

NOTABLE ANNIVERSARY

Today is the hundredth anniversary of the great naval duel in which in 1812 the frigate Constitution sank the British gunboat Guerriere in the same region in which the Titanic was lost. That battle was the first to give the republic real prestige on the sea. It followed a number of the most humiliating defeats and reasserted America's prowess on sea as well as on land. It lifted the United States from the position of a nonentity as a sea power to that of one forever after to be reckoned with by the greatest naval powers of the world. Today the United States while not a warlike power has a fleet that in essential qualities is not far behind the greatest in the world.

The London press has slight objection to granting free passage through the Panama canal to American vessels engaged in the coastwise trade. Foreign vessels cannot engage in this trade. But the Londoners do protest most vigorously against the proposition to extend this privilege to American ships engaged in foreign trade. They claim it would violate existing treaties.

The heirs of those who lost their lives on the Titanic have no legal claim for damages or compensation. Legislation is pending in congress, however, to make navigation companies responsible in law for deaths due to carelessness or mismanagement. The change will tend to make such companies more cautious.

The Bull Moose party is also a woman's party. Note the suffragists who are boosting the Colonel's candidacy.

No man is likely to make a great success in life if he is never active enough to wilt his collar in hot weather.

The people who jump when an especially sharp flash of lightning comes apparently forget that nobody ever dodged a bolt of lightning.

Instead of wiping your hands, on a dull day, when they perspire, try blowing on them. Theoretically it ought to make you cooler by evaporation.

When you haven't anything to do on a dull day, why not read the "Answers to Correspondents" column and try to guess the questions from the answers.

Even if you did get half of a good cigarette this morning, you can't be sure that the girl will give you the other half tomorrow morning.

When a girl at the seashore wears a red silk bathing suit up and down the beach during the bathing hour, you may be reasonably sure that her favorite flower is not the modest violet.

The society girl may not know much about geography in general, but she knows where all the fashionable summer resorts are.

Now that Gov. Woodrow Wilson is running for president, all the campaign speakers on the other side are going to knock on Wood.

In Gloucester the ice men furnish their customers with some square window cards, with 15, 25, 50, and 100 printed in large figures on the four sides. Thus the ice man, noticing which side up the card is placed, can see at a glance how many pounds of ice his customer wants. So also, can the neighbors.

Still there are people who have been over to New York and stayed for a whole week and never saw a gunman.

No matter how haughty an air a man may put on, he can't fool the waiter in a fashionable dining room if he doesn't leave a tip behind him.

The college student with his automobile nowadays is not so likely to burn the midnight oil as he is to use up the midnight gasoline.

No matter how many languages a man knows, he can't get along well with women unless he understands the language of the eyes.

THE SUMMER GIRL
The sunnier girl continues now
Her fascinating way,
And over a kingdom of young men
She holds her regal sway.

She is so dainty and so sweet,
So fetching and so fair,
It's little wonder at her feet
Men gather everywhere.

It is not strange that men should come
For many a weary mile,

To try to please her, if they can,

And bask within her smile.

But to young men of all degrees

A word may well be said;

It is all right to lose your heart,

But do not lose your head.

BAY STATE TROOPS
ARE UNDER CHARGES

Of Looting Store at Huntington Centre

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—That robbery, assault and battery and vandalism were committed by militiamen of the Red army during their recent war maneuvers in Connecticut is charged by many citizens along the line of the troops' recent march. A long list of complaints has been lodged with Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, commander-in-chief.

Another charge that is made, which is being investigated by United States officers, is that a number of the Massachusetts soldiers carried ball cartridges, which are strictly forbidden.

If only a few of the many reports in circulation in the last days of the Connecticut maneuvers are substantiated and a small part of the charges confirmed, a lack of discipline among the troops, or inability on the part of their officers to control them, will be revealed, which is likely to cast the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in considerably larger sum than had originally been anticipated for war expenses.

Actual robbery is charged against some of the soldiers—assault and battery against others. On the day of the fight for the possession of Walnut Tree Hill, the actions of certain of the Massachusetts soldiers were said to have been of such a disgraceful nature that the attention of Brig.-Gen. Pierce, of the first Massachusetts brigade, was called to them and an investigation was promised.

It is asserted that men of a Massachusetts regiment entered a store at Huntington Centre and nearly cleaned out the place. That they moreover refused to settle and threatened the proprietor with personal violence.

As a result of these actions the store was closed and the owner refused to open it again while the soldiers remained in the vicinity.

On Saturday last a peddler came to Gen. Bliss with the complaint that soldiers of a certain Massachusetts organization had taken his wagon, overturned it and left it in a ditch, stolen some of his rock in trade and ruined the balance.

A Derby, Ct., newspaper declares that the Massachusetts soldiers made a most unfavorable impression on the citizens of that town as they marched through it, bound for their camp at Charlton. A regular officer said that he had inspected some of the troops looking for ball cartridges, which are strictly forbidden, and that in one organization alone he had found 31 of these, and a lesser number in some of the others. These charges have been placed in the hands of United States officers, and it is likely that the investigation will be pursued until the guilty men have been discovered.

"I am disappointed with the showing of the Massachusetts troops," said an officer of the regular service, who had much to do with the state's troops. When asked for particulars he excused himself from answering on the ground that matters were under investigation by Gen. Bliss.

The charges of misconduct are not leveled at Massachusetts troops alone, however. In a case which is now before the Derby, Ct., court, men of the 59th New York regiment are charged with having attacked a mortician and a conductor, injuring them severely and nearly killing two special officers who went to the assistance of the railroad men.

PINIONED UNDER CAR

BROOKLINE MAN IS IN A SERIOUS CONDITION

MIDDLEBORO, Aug. 19.—Pinned under the wreck of an overturned automobile, and with gasoline from a broken pipe dripping on his face, Lewis Flanders, 49, Longwood Avenue, Brookline, was rescued just in time to escape asphyxiation on the state road at South Middleboro yesterday. He is now in a serious condition at his summer home at Sharon.

With Flanders in the machine were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Flanders, and the chauffeur. The automobile was going along the state road at a moderate speed when it suddenly skidded on the wet macadam pavement. Before the chauffeur could regain control the machine turned over, pinning Flanders under it. The others were thrown from the car, but were unharmed.

Before the other members of the party recovered Flanders had fallen into unconsciousness. Residents in the neighborhood and the occupants of a passing auto managed to get him out by jacking up the car with a fence rail. Dr. J. P. Leahy was called, and after attending him, took him in his machine to his Sharon home.

Late in the afternoon another auto, driven by Edward G. Pratt of Mattapan and owned by the White Garage, Brookton, stalled on the road near the scene of the first accident. Mr. Pratt jumped from the machine just before it crashed into the side of the Leonard & Barrows shoe factory. The automobile was wrecked.

GOING TO EUROPE

The following Lowell people are booked through Murphy's ticket agency to sail this week for a tour of the British Isles, sailing tomorrow from Boston on the Cunard line steamer Lusitania: Mrs. Sabina Kenny, Miss Mary Tait, Miss Nellie Tate, Miss Mary Barrett, George Barrow, Michael Nugent, John Molloy, Miss Maria Murtagh and Miss Margaret Brady; sailing on the Mauritania from New York Wednesday; Foster G. Heath and Arthur E. Cooper; sailing from Boston next Friday on the Allan line steamer Parisian for Glasgow, Scotland; Mrs. Annie P. Leslie and Walter E. Leslie.

Pat MacDonald, 35, a typewriter salesman, was found dead in his room at the Osmond House, 103 Liberty street, Lynn, about noon yesterday, with gas pouring from a tube which reached from a jet to the couch on which he was lying. The body was discovered by the proprietor, Henry S. Haskell, who had gone to summon Reed to the telephone. In a note to Mr. Haskell, Reed declared that his act was due to reasons he could not make known.

Reed came to Lynn from Salem four months ago. Recently he had been backward in making payments to the hotel. The note to Mr. Haskell also contained $2 in paid rent for rent. Besides this, Reed had but 26 cents in money. Mr. Haskell believed that Reed's house was in Wilmington, Del.

Other letters found on the bureau were addressed to F. Main and J. E. Kimball at 116 Congress street, Boston; M. J. Buckley at a drug store adjoining the lodging house; Mrs. E. J. Cashinger, 1036 North Eden street, Baltimore, and to Mrs. Jeanette Reed, 6619 Ridge avenue, Philadelphia.

JEWELS STOLEN

WERE SNATCHED FROM BOSTON WOMAN BY THIEF

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 19.—Jewelry valued at $300 and carried in a ham bag by Mrs. Harriet E. Blair, a wealthy Boston widow, was snatched from her hand Saturday night as she was coming ashore from the Canadian Pacific steamship Princess Charlotte from Victoria.

Most of the valuables were recovered soon after the robbery, when Pat MacDonald was arrested several blocks away from the dock. The robbery had not at that time been reported to the police and the arrest of MacDonald was because a costly wrist band he was carrying did not correspond with the rest of his belongings.

When questioned by Officer Leek, MacDonald had no satisfactory explanation and was taken to headquarters.

When the bag was opened MacDonald said the property belonged to his wife. Among the jewelry in the bag was a splendid bracelet set with nine diamonds, another bracelet studded with diamonds, a platinum necklace set with diamonds, and two solid gold mesh purses.

FOUND DEAD

FORMER LOWELL RESIDENT PASSED AWAY SUDDENLY

MILFORD, Aug. 19.—Frederick Ericson, aged 47, a native of Detleland, Sweden, was found dead in bed at his boarding place at 14 West Walnut street yesterday noon by his landlady, Mrs. Michael Smith, and a fellow countryman, John Johnson. They went to call him to dinner, thinking he had simply overslept, and found him dead. He had been here about a week, coming from Lowell to work for Webb Pink Granite company as a stonemason. He had been in this country many years, was single and economical, having bank deposits in Lowell and elsewhere. He had a farm in Sweden, where his nearest relatives, a brother and sister live. The cause of death was valvular disease of heart. Dr. W. J. Clarke, medical examiner, said Ericson had no relatives in America.

BAR ASSOCIATION

TO TAKE ACTION

On the Admission of Negro Lawyers

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The question whether negro attorneys should be admitted to membership in the American bar association will be submitted for final decision to the annual meeting of the organization next week at Milwaukee. The executive committee of the association made public last night a special report regarding the election to membership of three negroes, which was afterward rescinded. This report will be presented by the committee at the annual meeting as a basis for action.

This question first became prominent last January, when the executive committee reconsidered its action in electing to membership William H. Lewis, United States assistant attorney general. The committee rescinded its action in making Lewis a member on the ground that such action had been taken in "ignorance of material facts," which facts were that Lewis was a negro. Later it was discovered that two other lawyers, Butler R. Wilson of Boston and William R. Morris of Minnesota, had been elected members under the same misconception, the report says, and their cases were handled in the same way as that of Lewis.

The committee in its report declines to recede from the stand thus taken, but explains that the status of these three men as candidates for membership remains unpaired, and submits the whole question to the association.

Atty. Gen. Wickesham came to the aid of Mr. Lewis when membership was first denied him, and made a personal appeal to the 4700 members of the organization. The attorney general declared that Lewis was legally elected and that the committee had no right to rescind its original action.

In the conclusion of its report, the committee says:

"The committee has not rejected any one of the three mentioned gentlemen for membership in the association or assumed to determine the desirability of electing to such membership colored men otherwise qualified. But for as
